Break at Lausanne Peace Conference Averted

FRANCE'S ATTITUDE CAUSES BRITISH CHANGE OF PLANS

Curzon Delays Threatened Bolt of Meeting After French Talk of Separate Pact With Turks.

CHILD URGES PEACE BE SIGNED AT ONCE

Delegates Believe Agreement Will Be Reached Before Extended Four Days' Session Runs Out.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Lausanne, January 31.—The spirit of conciliation shown on all sides today prevented a rupture of the near eastern peace conference following formal presentation of the allied draft treaty to the Turks, and the mutual good will manifested by the British, French and Italian delegations sidetracked any danger of a break in the allied front due to yesterday's developments.

Marquis Curzon, the British foreign secretary, changed his plans for leaving Lausanne Friday, and agreed to remain, together with his entire delegation, until Sunday night. Meanwhile, efforts will be made by private negotiations to obtain accord on the disputed points in the treaty.

Richard Washburn Child, who as chief American spokesman delivered a striking address at today's meeting, urged that peace be signed as soon as possible, has played an important role in dominating part in harmonizing the conflicting views of the allies as to the time limit to be given the Turks and in convincing the Ottoman delegates that their national interests demand peace be concluded without delay.

Reasonable prospects of attaining an agreement, probably by submission of several of the matters in conflict to arbitration, saved the conference, induced the Turks to adopt a more moderate attitude and prevented discord among the allies.

The result is that the Turks probably will not present their counter-proposals at a formal session of the conference, but will endeavor to iron out the difficulties speedily in private conferences.

Ismet Pasha, head of the Turkish delegation, conferred with Mr. Child tonight in connection with the efforts of all parties to the controversy to find a basis of accord on the issues dividing them.

Today's developments brought a decided lessening in the tension between

ENGLISH CHURCH APPROVES CHANGES IN PRAYER BOOK

London, January 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—While final action on the proposal to revise the book of common prayer of the Church of England seems unlikely before next summer the house of clergy of the national assembly has approved the proposed revision by a large majority.

It is necessary also to obtain the approval of the house of bishops and the house of laity, which are the other sections of the assembly before the project can be sanctioned.

It is expected among the proponents of the measure that the revision will be accomplished, but that final approval probably will not be given until the summer session of the assembly.

$250,000 IN GEMS LOOT OF ROBBERS IN MIAMI HOME

Police Baffled by Mysterious Disappearance of Gems of Chicago Lumberman's Wife.

JEWELRY STOLEN WAS UNINSURED

Police Advance Theory That Robbery Was Carefully Planned Weeks in Advance.

Miami, Fla., January 31.—One slender clue was being followed tonight by police and private detectives investigating the disappearance of $250,000 worth of jewelry belonging to Mrs. David G. Joyce, wife of a Chicago lumberman, which she reported today had been stolen from her winter home here.

Frankly admitting that the circumstances surrounding the case were baffling, the police turned their search toward a pedler reported to have been seen in the neighborhood of the Joyce estate making a house-to-house canvass during the last three days.

The theft was not discovered by Mrs. Joyce until this afternoon, although she believes the jewelry was taken from the dresser of her room last night while the family was at dinner. Mr. Joyce was on a fishing trip down the coast today. A seaplane left here tonight to bring him back. The Joyce estate, located in a picturesque spot on Biscayne Bay, set back in immense gardens. The house is entwined with bougainvillea. Entrance to Mrs. Joyce's room, from all indications, were made by

U. S. COMMISSION TO CALL MEETING ON BRITISH DEBT

Action to Come Today or Friday, Following Acceptance of Terms by English Cabinet.

CAPITAL WELL PLEASED WITH ACTION TAKEN

Feeling Prevails That Ultimate Result Would Be Substantial Improvement in World Conditions.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Washington, January 31.—Advice announcing the acceptance today by the British cabinet of the American debt funding suggestions were received by official Washington with undisguised satisfaction. The feeling prevailed generally that a step toward breaking the "vicious cycle of world debts" had been taken and that the result would be a substantial improvement in world conditions.

On the basis of press dispatches which were supplemented later by a brief cable from the state department from Ambassador Harvey in London, members of the American debt funding commission began immediate preparation for presenting the terms of the tentative settlement to congress.

Some further negotiations are expected to be necessary, however, since, according to Mr. Harvey's cable report, the British government agreed to the American suggestions "in principle." To what extent such an agreement may affect the suggestions carried back to London by Stanley Baldwin, chancellor of the exchequer, and his colleagues of the mission, was not known tonight, but it was believed in official circles that the major questions of interest rates and the plan for amortization had been accepted by the British without change.

Plan Meeting at Once.

As a result of Mr. Harvey's cabled message, it was stated officially, plans would be made for a meeting of the American commission tomorrow or Friday. The meeting, it was said, would be held tomorrow if a further report promised on details of the agreement was received from Mr. Harvey. If further negotiations are necessary, they will be conducted with Sir Auckland Geddes, the British representative.

Dixie Students Plan Formation Of Association

Will Try to Settle Athletic Disputes and to Discourage Betting.

Formation by student government organizations of sixteen colleges in the south, comprising the Southern Intercollegiate conference of an association to be known as the Southern Federation of Students, will be perfected in Atlanta at a convention called for Friday and Saturday, February 9 and 10, according to an announcement by Albert Stutz, president of the student council at Georgia Tech.

Several of the sixteen colleges to be represented at the meeting will send as many as three delegates to the organization meeting, he said. The meeting was called by Mr. Stutz and Joe Pearce, president of the students' association of the Mississippi A. and M. college.

It will be the purpose of the federation to maintain harmony between the various southern colleges, to attempt to settle all athletic disputes, to discourage gambling by students on sporting events, and to promote and assist any enterprises which are believed to be beneficial to the colleges and the welfare of the students.

DEFICIT OF CITY AGAIN SWELLED

Unvouchered Bills of $17,500 Found in Waterworks Department—Gordon Wants Action.

Day by day in every way the city's deficit grows larger and larger. Discovery of an additional deficit, amounting to $17,000 in the city's waterworks department, was disclosed Wednesday from unvouchered bills in the waterworks department evoked a storm of criticism on the system of accounting employed in the office of W. Zed Smith, head of the waterworks department and B. Graham West, city comptroller, by members of the finance committee of council.

"The committee should have some way of telling who is to blame for these errors," declared Alderman R. L. Gordon, finance committee member. "When we made up the finance budget for 1923, it seems to me that these figures should have been included in the city's liabilities. They were not. Now we are confronted with added bills for which we are now ready facing one of the most difficult financial problems in its history."

Should Discharge Clerk.

"Somebody is to blame for this condition. These additional liabilities should have been considered when the budget sheet was made out. I think whoever is responsible—and it is evident that that 'somebody' is either Mr. Smith's bookkeeper, or Mr. West's bookkeeper—should be fired."

The additional liabilities were brought to the attention of the finance committee at its regular session. Mr. Smith stated that unvouchered bills in his department totaled $44,000, he finance committee were told several weeks ago, according to Alderman Gordon, that the entire amount of unvouchered bills of the city were $55,000. Mr. Smith declared that he was under the impression that his total amount of unvouchered bills were included in this $55,000 item. Later he learned they were not, he said.

It was my understanding that all of the unvouchered bills in the waterworks department were included in the $55,000 of unvouchered bills," said Mr. Smith. "I now find that there is approximately $17,000 which was not included in this amount. Of this amount we have about $9,000 worth of coal which was purchased last year and for which we are now called upon to pay. This coal is for consumption during 1923 and consequently cannot be charged as an additional liability."

West Defends Self. "There are however, $8,500 in unvouchered bills that should have been included in the original item as turned over to the finance committee before the budget was completed. I was under the impression that this amount was included."

Comptroller West, in defending his office, stated that the error was caused by the bookkeeper in the waterworks office failing to check properly with figures in the comptroller's office. The committee did not go into the matter further, but after the meeting, members intimated they would investigate it.

Mayor Sims, who was present at the committee meeting when the additional deficit was discovered, declared he was not surprised.

"As I have stated before," asserted the mayor, "the total amount of the city's deficit is more than $1,000,000. It is not surprising to me that the figures get larger and larger, day by day. I still say that the new administration is facing the largest deficit of our history in Atlanta."

PASSAGE OF FARM CREDIT MEASURE DECLARED CERTAIN

Motion to Recommit Is Overwhelmingly Defeated—Senate to Vote on Bill Friday.

PREDICT BROOKHART AMENDMENT TO LOSE

Measure for Establishment of Farmers' Co-Operative Banks Fails to Meet Approval.

Washington, January 31.—Passage by the senate Friday of the Lenroot-Anderson farm credits bill, the second and last on the former relief program was regarded as certain today by an agreement for a vote on that day and the overwhelming defeat of a motion for recommitment.

The agreement proposal was offered by Senator Swanson, democrat, Virginia, after conferences with leaders on both sides, but was adopted only after Senator Lenroot, republican, Wisconsin, had threatened to hold the senate in session tonight.

After disposing of the credit measure the senate will take up the bill with the shipping bill following over the program. Considerable debate on the army budget is predicted with the possibility that opponents of the shipping bill will use it, as it has been charged that the farm credit legislation, as a buffer against the shipping measure.

Came as Surprise.

The motion to recommit the Lenroot-Anderson bill came as a surprise. It was made by Senator Couzens, republican, Michigan, the new member appointed to succeed former Senator Newberry, and proposed to send the measure and all substitutes and amendments to the banking committee. The Michigan senator contended that the senate was without sufficient information to act on farm credits and urged that the bill go over until the next congress, but his motion was defeated 51 to 4. Its supporters were Senator Couzens, La Follette, republican, North Dakota, and Walsh, democrat, Massachusetts.

The Capper farm credits bill passed recently by the senate, Mr. Couzens

POOLE TO FACE BUNCO CHARGES

Inefficiency on Part of Detective Chief Will Be Claimed at Meeting Tonight, Says Report.

Inefficiency charges as enumerated in the first grand jury presentations preceding the famous bunco probe of 1921 against Detective Chief A. Lamar Poole will be made by the police committee of city council at the regular session tonight, it was revealed Wednesday from apparently authentic sources.

It is the purpose of the committee, according to city hall information, to arraign Chief Poole on these charges which involved him and other members of the detective department, and to further attempt to prove Police Chief James L. Beavers guilty of "inefficiency" because of his neglect in correcting the conditions that are said to have existed as the result of the retention of the detective chief in his position.

Members of the police committee, while refusing to divulge actual plans at the meeting, intimated that such procedure was being strongly considered.

Another important matter that is scheduled to share the committee's attention is the proposed ordinance voted upon favorably by the ordinance committee to abolish the detective department and relegate its personnel to the ranks of the police department. This matter will probably be given approval by the committee as a whole, since it was framed by Alderman Jesse W. Armistead, chairman of the police committee.

Neither Chief Beavers nor Chief Poole would discuss the situation, except to say they were only asking "a square deal."

Henry Clews, Noted Banker, Dies Wednesday

One of Most Prominent Figures on Wall Street Succumbs to Illness.

New York, January 31.—Henry Clews, noted financier, died at his home late Wednesday. He had been ill for several weeks, suffering from bronchitis.

Clews was head of the banking firm which bears his name, one of the oldest in the Wall street financial district. He was born August 14, 1840, in Staffordshire, England, but came to the United States at an early age. He organized the banking firm of Stout, Clews and Mason which later became Livermore, Clews & Co.

At the outbreak of the civil war he was appointed by Secretary of the Treasury Chase, government financial agent for the sale of bond issues, to continue during the war. In 1877, he organized and has since been the head of Henry Clews & Co. He was appointed by President Grant as fiscal agent of the United States government for all foreign nations.

Clews twice declined the secretaryship of the treasury.

WESTERN UNION TO KEEP LEASE

Fight Over Transportation Building Settled by Execution of Mortgage and Payment of Liens.

The long litigation between the Western Union Telegraph company and Brown and Randolph company, growing out of the 20-year lease by the Western Union Telegraph company practically one-half of the Transportation building, was settled on Wednesday by an agreement between the parties, under which the Western Union Telegraph company will be permitted to enjoy its lease throughout the stipulated term, provided by the original lease contracts.

It is stated by the parties that, under the terms of the settlement, the Brown and Randolph company executed a mortgage for $600,000 upon the Transportation building, and devoted the proceeds of the mortgage to satisfaction of the liens prior to the date of the Western Union lease.

The litigation arose upon the levy of an execution by the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, in foreclosure of a mortgage for $400,000 held upon the Transportation building.

Western Union Contentious.

The Western Union Telegraph company, through its attorneys, Dorsey, Brewster, Howell & Heyman, filed a bill in equity in Fulton superior court, alleging that it had expended large sums in excess of $150,000 in equipping its leased quarters, and that the sale of the building under the foreclosure proceedings instituted by the Metropolitan Life Insurance company would divest the rights of the Western Union under its lease contracts, and that the company would be forced to vacate the leased premises or to pay a very large indemnity.

J. W. Hutchins, 20, employee of the Backus Medical Institute, Wednesday afternoon was ordered discharged from the custody of officers by Recorder George E. Johnson, when he was arraigned before the court in connection with the shooting last Monday afternoon of Miss Alma Randall, 20, of Vinings station, who is still in a serious condition in Grady hospital.

Both Hutchins and the young woman, confined immediately after the shooting that it was accidental. Later an affidavit was obtained from Miss Randall which set forth that Hutchins did not intentionally shoot her, that he was cleaning his pistol when it accidentally discharged.

The shooting occurred in the offices of the Backus Medical Institute in the Austell building, where both Hutchins and Miss Randall are employed.

PLAN WIDER SCOPE FOR NAVAL ACCORD SIGNED AT CAPITAL

League Council Will Call Conference of Powers Who Are Non-Signatories of Agreement.

TO FIX DATE AFTER PAN-AMERICAN MEET

Council Will Invite All Members of League to Limit Armament Expenditures as of 1913.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Paris, January 31.—The council of the league of nations meeting here decided this afternoon to call an international conference of the naval powers who are non-signatories of the Washington agreements for the purpose of extending the provisions of the naval accord reached at the Washington conference.

The council deferred fixing the date of the meeting until the results of the Santiago Pan-American congress are known.

In spite of the intervention of the Earl of Balfour, who declared that appropriations for armaments did not form a practical basis from which to figure proportional limitations, the council decided, in pursuance of a resolution adopted by the last assembly, to invite all members of the league to limit their annual expenditures for armaments to the amount appropriated in 1913.

The welfare of the German minorities in Poland is giving the council considerable concern. The question is, on the agenda, but is being put off in order to give the members opportunity for private consideration in the hope of preparing the way for agreement before it is taken up formally.

One of the clouds hanging over Europe was dissipated today when Czechoslovakia and Hungary accepted the procedure proposed by the council of the league of nations to settle the boundary dispute between them.

Representatives of both countries told the council at its meeting here today that they would abide by its decision. The council will render its decision at its next meeting.

600 GERMAN COAL MINERS ENTOMBED

Crews Bring 35 Dead to Surface—Eighty of 200 Rescued Suffer Injuries.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Berlin, January 31.—Six hundred miners are entombed in the Heinitz mine at Beuthen, Polish Silesia, in consequence of an explosion of fire damp today.

Of the eight hundred men, constituting the morning shift, who went into the mine shortly before the explosion, only 200 had been rescued late today. Of these, eighty injured were taken to hospitals.

The bodies of 35 dead had been brought to the surface when the dispatch from Beuthen was filed.

WAGE AGREEMENTS IN PENNSYLVANIA COAL FIELDS SIGNED

Pittsburgh, January 31.—Peace in the Pittsburgh bituminous coal district for the year beginning April 1, was assured late today when the Pittsburgh Coal company and the United Mine Workers agreed upon a wage scale and working conditions.

The Pittsburgh Coal Producers' association and the Freeport Thick Vein Coal Operators' association, the other important commercial producing organizations of the district had already signed the scale.

ESSEN ISOLATED WHEN TELEGRAPH CABLES ARE CUT

Stoppage of Work at Mines Foreseen as Empty Coal Cars Practically Disappear.

SCARCITY OF FOOD BECOMES MORE ACUTE

Germans Post Signs in Bochum Showing Hated for Troops of Invading Nation.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Duesseldorf, January 31.—Seizure of the Ruhr customs by the French; the low level of coal production reached; the practical disappearance of empty coal cars from the region, threatening a complete stoppage of work at the mines within a few days; the cutting of the Cologne-Berlin trunk telegraph and telephone cables at several places, around Essen, completely isolating the city from the outside world, and a more acute scarcity of food—these were the developments of the twenty-first day of the Franco-Belgian occupation.

On the other hand, calm has apparently been restored so far as outward demonstrations are concerned, the infantry, bicycle and cavalry patrols, which have been keeping order since the outburst last Thursday, have arrested only two men at Essen and one at Duesseldorf in the past 24 hours, and these were for minor offenses. The patrols had been averaging 15 to 20 arrests daily in each of these cities.

Severe Blow.

The taking over of the customs by the French is the most severe economic blow attempted since they entered the Ruhr. M. Ellippi, the French chief of the Ruhr customs, avers that the defections of the personnel of the German functionaries amount to only about 40 per cent; that there were immediately replaced and work proceeded normally. The Germans declare that more than 70 per cent of their customs staff walked out and insist that the French will not be able to handle collections.

A visit to the Duisburg central customs house disclosed little contention; business was somewhat slower but the French are keeping the doors open for two hours additional with the French staff and such Germans as volunteer, in order to transport the daily business.

Coal Production Drops.

The coal production yesterday was 50 per cent below normal for the first time since the occupation. Only a little more than 100,000 tons were brought to the surface, and owing to the shortage of "empies" about 70,000 tons were loaded and cleared from the pit heads.

Despite the low production, the French admitted this evening that should the shortage of empties become worse the mines may have to shut down as the mining operations are already hampered by lack of room at the pit heads, due to accumulations. There is only sufficient room at the pit heads to handle four full days' normal output of the mines, which is

JONES AGAIN HEADS CHILDREN'S SOCIETY

Several New Directors Added to Board at Annual Meeting Wednesday.

Robert H. Jones, Jr., was re-elected president of the Georgia Children's Home society at the annual meeting of the society in the chamber of commerce auditorium, Wednesday afternoon. Stiles Hopkins and Arthur Brooke, of Atlanta, and Alan O'Neal, of Savannah, were elected vice presidents, while Paul Coleman was named secretary and George R. Donovan, treasurer.

New directors elected to the board of the society were: John Paschal, Francis W. Clarke, George F. Eubanks, A. E. McCann, W. S. Byck, A. A. LaVaque and Filley Baum. The state superintendent's report showed that with less than forty thousand dollars, the income of the society during the last year, 856 children were brought under the organization's care or supervision. The report of Miss Martha Dulac, case supervisor, classified these children that had been referred to the society under various groups, showing their origin, condition, and disposition made of them.

Brief addresses concerning the society's work were made by President Jones, Dr. P. Bowdoin of the board of directors, and by Miss Mary McLeod of the state department of public welfare.

INMATES PUNISHED AT FEDERAL PRISON FOR HAVING MONEY

Walter Bender and Fred Poole, two prisoners at the federal penitentiary, will lose "good behavior" privileges due to infraction of the rule which prohibits possession of money in the prison, it was declared Wednesday by officials. An investigation is under way to ascertain how Bender came into possession of $58 discovered on his person Tuesday by Deputy Warden Fletcher. Bender is said to have stated that Poole had given it to him to send to Mrs. Poole, who lives in Atlanta. Both prisoners were trustees and detailed as workmen at the residence of Warden J. B. Dyche.

FACTS ABOUT AGE OF NEGRO WOMAN CORROBORATED

About two weeks ago there was published the story of Evelyn Bolton, Oglethorpe county negro, who recently died at the well-authenticated age of 127. Since this story appeared in The Constitution many letters of comment have reached the office of Dr. Davis, head of the vital statistics bureau of the state department of health.

Wednesday, however, the most interesting of them all came in the mail. It was from a woman in Seattle, Wash., who wrote that she had read the story with particular interest, inasmuch as she herself is the great-granddaughter of Evelyn Bolton, the aged deceased.

The writer of the letter corroborated the facts as to the age of her ancestor, saying she knew positively that the age given was at least within a year or so of correct. She said, however, that the correct name of Evelyn when she died was not Bolton, but Hooth, since she had been married twice, her first husband being named Bolton and the second Hooth.

AUTHORIZE PROBE
COTTON INDUSTRY

Senate Is to Determine Whether Undue Methods Used to Restrain Operations of Staple.

Constitution Bureau, Raleigh Hotel.

Washington, January 31.—(By Constitution Bureau Wire.)—Under a resolution passed by the senate today, the agricultural committee of that body, and other governmental agencies are authorized to make a complete investigation of all matters pertaining to the subject of supply and demand and marketing of cotton, with the view of determining whether any undue methods of practices are being employed by the trade in restraining the natural operation of the law of supply and demand.

The resolution, which had the backing of all southern senators, was introduced by Senator Smith, of South Carolina, and is expected to have an important bearing on the cotton industry.

In the body of the measure, Senator Smith recited official statistics to show the carry-over or present stock of American cotton is less than the normal carry-over, and that the present yield would fall far below the world's demand for cotton produced here. The entire carry-over plus the indicated yield would not meet the world's demand, the resolution stated, going on to say ravages of the boll weevil, more severe than ever before in the history of the pest, together with other adverse conditions, had acted to enormously increase the expense of production, and that although consumption both here and abroad has shown a progressive increase, the price of cotton in the markets has failed utterly to respond to these conditions.

The investigation was ordered to determine why adverse conditions have not met with a proper response from the market, as well as to obtain further information concerning production.

some one who climbed to a window by way of the vine and punched holes in the screen, unlocking it from the inside.

Police Are Baffled.
Despite the holes in the screen, the police tonight were inclined to the theory that entrance was gained from some other part of the house and that the thief punched the holes to direct suspicion in other directions. No evidence, they said, could be found that any one had climbed to the window from the outside. The vine was undisturbed and there were no marks on the ground, nor did the screen appear to have been removed. The theory was advanced that the robbery had been carefully planned weeks in advance and the movements of the Jewels well observed so that the thief made his raid during the dinner hour, between 7 and 8 o'clock p. m. Servants in the house were unable to throw any light on the case.

Jewelry Uninsured.
The Jewels were not insured, Mrs. Joyce told the police. It was the first time she declared that she had left her jewels on the dresser while she dined. The list, she stated, ranged from a gold vanity case, valued at $1,500 to rings, studded with many as twenty diamonds. It included two strings of large pearl necklaces. One ring which she first reported missing was discovered under a scarf on the dresser.

One dresser drawer was open, Mrs. Joyce said, when she made the discovery. A fact which puzzles the police is that a platinum watch set with a two and a half karat diamond and a purse containing $100 was untouched.

There were only four persons in the house at the time Mrs. Joyce thinks the jewels disappeared, herself, a woman guest and two servants. The jewels were on the dresser when she went to dinner last night, she said as she opened the case containing most of them. She did not look inside it again until this afternoon.

"The campaign is young, and any person who is sincere in his desire to earn a big, expensive automobile can come in today and not suffer a single handicap. There are more than twice the number of big prizes offered now than was the case a few days ago, and the list of workers is not a particle larger at this time.

"The consequence is that workers now stand twice as good a chance to win one of the big awards without any increase in competition. The opportunity is a golden one for hustlers. Senator Couzens criticized the banking committee of which he is a member, contending that it had not given sufficient consideration to the Norbeck bill nor, in fact, to the Lenroot-Anderson measure.

PREDICT DEFEAT OF BANK AMENDMENT.

Washington, January 31.—(Special.)—Indications were today that republican leaders of the senate would defeat the Brookhart amendment to the Lenroot-Anderson rural credits bill.

The amendment, presented by Senator Brookhart, Iowa progressive, provides for the establishment of farmers' cooperative banks, and has been endorsed by the representative agricultural organizations of the nation, including the National Farmers' union, headed by Charles S. Barrett, of Georgia.

Discussion of the measure in the senate today came after unanimous consent had been obtained to vote on the Lenroot bill Friday, and revealed widespread opposition from eastern republicans. The Iowa senator admitted to a representative of The Constitution later that chances of its favorable consideration appeared unencouraging at this time.

Replying to queries as to whether his proposal met with the approval of farm bloc, Senator Brookhart read from the floor a letter from President Barrett of the Farmers' union endorsing the legislation, which he stated was recommended by the last national convention of the organization in Lynchburg, Va., recently. In the letter Mr. Barrett recorded that he had traveled "approximately 14,000 miles, since the convention visiting farmers' meetings and conventions in over thirty states" and had "found the feeling deepening in favor of co-operative banking."

Provokes Lively Scene.
Injection of the co-operative banking amendment into senatorial discussion provoked a lively scene. Asked by Senator Reed, of Pennsylvania, if the amendment has the support of the farm bloc, Senator Brookhart replied that too many ship subsidy advocates had crept into the bloc to make for concord on agricultural matters. He had not presented it for approval for this reason, he said, following with the statement that "not every one in the farm bloc is very deeply in it."

In brief, the amendment provides for a revision of the national banking statutes to permit the formation of associations for carrying on banking business by any number of natural persons, "not less in any case than two hundred, with a capital stock subscription of not less than $15,000 to be known as co-operative national banks." The capital stock would receive dividends not exceeding the legal rate of interest in the state where the bank is located, and in no event exceeding 8 per cent per annum.

Explaining more fully what is meant by co-operative banks, Mr. Barrett in his letter to Senator Brookhart, said in part:

To Protect Interests.
"By co-operative banks we mean banks which under the national law will function in the interest of the legitimate objects which are recognized as belonging to the well tried out efforts of agricultural co-operation. Railroads, meat packers and other great manufacturers, merchants and many others, long ago learned that they must protect their interests by entering into banking arrangements where by outright stock ownership or interlocking sympathies they could protect themselves against financial embarrassment."

"This determination of the farmers to go into banking as a means to further the business of agriculture and with it to insure prosperity to all is no more startling than was the farmers' idea for parcel post so strenuously fought by certain vested interests and now so universally accepted with no objections from any source."

"Since our national convention at Lynchburg I have traveled 14,000 miles, visiting farmers' meetings and conventions in over thirty states. Everywhere I found the feeling deepening in favor of co-operative banking, and furthermore I observed action leading toward that end. Farmers have become quite fearful that without banking facilities of their own they can be brought upon them again without warning a repetition of the terrible experience of the Oklahoma which they have recently undergone. Only federal legislation which is basically remedial and which frankly recognizes agriculture as a fundamental importance to the nation will be welcomed by the thinking farmer."

crease above the agreed rentals stipulated in the lease contracts.

The bill alleged that the value of the Transportation building was largely in excess of the mortgage indebtedness under which the foreclosure proceedings were instituted, and that the property, if sold subject to the lease of the Western Union, would bring enough to pay off all prior liens.

The plaintiff bound itself to make the property bring enough to pay off prior liens, if the court should grant plaintiff's prayer to enjoin a sale under the foreclosure proceedings, unless sold subject to the lease of the Western Union Telegraph company.

Upon the interlocutory hearing before Judge Middleton, of Fulton superior court, the petition was denied, the court holding that it was without jurisdiction to interfere with the sale under the foreclosure proceedings instituted by the Metropolitan Life insurance company, and was without jurisdiction to attach any conditions to the sale protecting the leasehold interest of the Western Union Telegraph company.

Lower Court Reversed.
An appeal from the decision of Judge Middleton was filed to the supreme court of Georgia, and the supreme court recently handed down its

The Transportation building, located at the corner of Marietta and Forsyth streets, the site of the old state capitol, is one of the most modern and valuable office buildings in Atlanta.

The settlement between the parties enabled the owners of the building to finance the investment, so as to pay off all liens against the property, and permit the profitable operation of the building.

The settlement was consummated on Wednesday by the cancellation of all liens of record in the office of the clerk of Fulton superior court, and by record of the settlement of the litigation, at the cost of the Brown and Randolph company.

FOREIGN CONCERNS ASK TAX RETURNS

Dennison Manufacturing Company and New York Life Insurance Company Sue General Wright.

A number of cases are to be heard in the Fulton superior court at an early date, which involve efforts on the part of foreign corporations to recover taxes paid to the state of Georgia.

The first of these, that of the Dennison Manufacturing company against Comptroller General William A. Wright, will be heard this week before Judge George L. Bell and the brief for the defendant was completed on Tuesday in the office of Attorney General George M. Napier, Assistant Attorney General Seward Smith having completed it.

In the second, that of the New York Life Insurance company against General Wright, the brief was completed Wednesday. In each case the argument in answer to the suit is identical, the two suits being based upon the same premise.

Mr. Smith, in his brief, points out that these cases are exceedingly important, inasmuch as if it is held that General Wright is personally responsible for the taxes collected by him, and turned into the common treasury fund of the state, the comptroller of taxes would be made responsible personally for the return of all tax payments ever held unconstitutional.

He argues that General Wright can not be sued as an individual, and, if he is sued as an agent for the state, the case should be thrown out of court, on the principle that Georgia is a sovereign state and can not be sued without her own consent.

The amount involved in the suit of the New York Life Insurance company is $4,731.11, with interest at 7 per cent per annum since September 12, 1921, being the taxes paid by that corporation through its local office in this state.

Poillon Sisters Of Gotham Again In Limelight

Fiance of One Prefers Grand Larceny Charges—Alleges Bunco Game.

New York, January 31.—Charlotte Poillon and her sister, Mrs. Katherine P. Smith—known to the police for a decade or more as the Poillon sisters—were routed from their beds in a fashionable upper West Side apartment early today and arrested on a charge of grand larceny, perpetrated by Charles H. Dusenbury, 73 years old, who says he was engaged to marry Katherine.

According to the complaint Dusenbury sought the hand of Katherine, who is 51 years old, and before she accepted, Charlotte told him she wanted proof of his ability to support her sister. Dusenbury thereupon produced stock certificates worth $4,500 and the sisters said they wanted to show them to her parents who lived uptown. Dusenbury consented, and that was the last he saw of the certificates, he said.

The sisters came to New York 24 years ago from their native city of Troy, and since then they have figured frequently in the news.

Katherine got the first notoriety by knocking out a man who had spoken to her without an introduction as she was walking in Central park.

In 1903 Katherine brought suit for $250,000 against William Gould Brokaw, alleging breach of promise to marry, but the case was settled for $17,000 before it went to a jury. Then she sued her lawyers, alleging that they had taken too much of the settlement money.

In 1913 they were sent to Blackwell's Island for three months for defrauding a hotel out of $300.

In 1915 they came into public notice again when it was found that the alleged German spy, Raymond Ralph Swoboda, had lived in their apartment in Riverside Drive.

In 1920 they aided detectives in trapping a man who was charged with being implicated in the theft of jewelry from Enrico Caruso's home and received part of the $10,000 reward for the recovery of the gems.

SUSPEND IMPORTS OF DOPE INTO U. S.

Control Board Puts Lid On, Pending Figures of Amount Necessary in Country.

Washington, January 31.—The federal narcotics control board today announced it would grant no more applications to import narcotics pending a decision as to the total amount of such drugs which it is advisable to admit into the country during the year.

The board at the same time invited suggestions from those entitled to import the drugs for legitimate purposes as to the quantities they believed necessary for the year.

The limitation of imports is made possible under laws enacted last year and the board, it was stated, is attempting to fix on a reasonable limitation under the terms of those acts and met at the same time the legitimate requirements of the drug and medical trade.

Bursum Pension Bill For Disabled Officers Tabled by Committee

Washington, January 31.—The Bursum bill, which would authorize retirement of disabled volunteer officers, veterans of the world war, on the same basis as officers of the regular army, has been tabled by the house military committee, it was announced today, by a vote of 7 to 7. It passed the senate several months ago.

Soldiers Face Court-Martial In Army Robbery

Recover Most of $43,000 Taken in Holdup of Payroll Messengers.

Newport News, Va., January 31.—Corporals John S. Wood and James Harvey, of the fifty-eighth service squadron at Langley field, will be tried by court-martial on charges of stealing the post's payroll of $43,000 yesterday after kidnapping Captain Norman D. Cota, chief finance officer, his assistant and two guards in front of a bank at Hampton, it was announced tonight.

Wood and Harvey, who were identified as the men who held up the payroll party, are alleged to have told a board of inquiry today that "life was not worth living the way things were going with us, and we decided to get some money and have one real fling or get killed in the attempt." They are said to have related in detail how they held up the captain and his four companions, forced them to drive to the woods near Big Bethel, where the automobile was wrecked, bound and gagged the five men and fled with the money.

All excepting $2,708.43 of the $43,000 had been recovered tonight, and the accused corporals are said to have offered to accompany searches over the route of their flight, expressing the opinion that the money was lost while they were dodging posers. The remainder of the $43,000, however, was recovered when the men were arrested near Hampton last night.

SALE OF "MILEAGE" ORDERED RESUMED

I. C. C. Instructs All "Class One" Roads to Furnish Interchangeable Books March 15.

Washington, January 31.—Railroads were ordered today by the interstate commerce commission to resume the practice of selling interchangeable mileage books good for 2,500 miles of travel at reductions of 20 per cent from the regular passenger rates.

Sale of the books must begin March 15, the commission decided. A number of small railroads were excluded from the requirements of the order because of their financial inability to meet the reduction. Practically all of the class one roads, however, must establish the reductions.

Abandoned During War. Re-establishment of the mileage book system, which was abandoned during the war resulted from passage of a bill introduced by Senator Watson, republican, Indiana, which directed railroads to again issue interchangeable books subject to determination by the interstate commerce commission as to whether there should be reductions in rates.

Commercial travelers and business organizations were especially active in urging that the mileage book privilege be restored to persons required to travel extensively in the transaction of business. The commission noted that the general business opinion was that the reduction would result in a greater number of salesmen going out on the road and an increase in the amount of travel by those now engaged as salesmen.

The sales of the books will be open to all desiring them.

Commission's Ruling. "We find and conclude that on and after March 15 carriers by rail shall establish, issue and maintain," the commission's majority opinion stated, "at such offices as we may hereafter designate, a nontransferable interchangeable scrip coupon ticket in the denomination of $90 which shall be sold at a reduction of 20 per cent from the face value of the ticket. We further find that the rate resulting from that reduction will be just and reasonable within one year from the date of issue of the coupon ticket shall be good, within one year from the date of issue, for carriage of passengers on all passenger trains, except that the cost of special or extra fare trains, its use will be subject to the payment by the passenger of the special or extra fare."

Rules and regulations which railroads will adopt for controlling the sale are to be submitted, the order said, to the commission within thirty days for approval.

Commissioners Hall, Daniels and Eastman dissented, the first two declaring that the result of the decision would be to give special privileges to a preferred class of railroad users at the expense of the general public. Commissioner Eastman contended that "the action taken in this case will postpone the day of a reduction for the benefit of all travelers, which is far more to be desired."

The commission did not name the roads excluded from the order.

MEATS SELLING FAR UNDER LEVEL OF OTHER FOODS

Chicago, January 31.—Meats are now selling considerably below the level of other commodities as compared with values prevailing before the war, John T. Russell, of Chicago, president of the National Association of Meat Councils and executive committee of the United States Meat Butchers of America, announced here today after the completion of a survey made for him.

"The latest retail figures of the United States bureau of labor statistics," Mr. Russell said, "those for December, show that nine meats listed by the bureau, sirloin steak, round steak, rib roast, chuck roast, plate beef, pork chops, bacon, ham and lard, averaged only 36 per cent higher than in 1913, whereas all articles of food combined, as listed by the bureau, averaged 47 per cent higher, or 11 per cent above the meats."

"What is considered that the meats listed by the bureau are chiefly those which are now in relatively higher demand than in 1913, those figures are highly significant. Many less demanded cuts are selling at very low prices."

COUNTY ATTORNEY REVISES RULING AGAINST KLANS

New York, January 30.—District Attorney Dodd, of Kings county, which embraces Brooklyn, where police have been watching meetings of the Ku Klux Klan, today announced that he did not regard mere membership in the hooded order as grounds for arrest.

Mr. Dodd's position was set forth in a letter to John H. Barker, who wrote complaining against Magistrate Dale's method of dealing with charges of disloyalty against last week after they had attended a Klan meeting in Brooklyn.

"The right of peaceable assembly cannot be denied, nor should any attempt be made to prevent the meeting of any organization for a lawful purpose," Mr. Dodd wrote. "If, however, any organization or body of men shall meet in this county for the purpose of conspiring to commit a crime or take the law into their own hands, upon evidence of that being brought to this office, a vigorous prosecution will be instituted. The work of this office is to prosecute persons charged with the commission of crime and while I am in charge it will keep within its legal bounds."

Mr. Barker disclaimed any interest in the Klan in his letter to Mr. Dodd, but declared that the attitude of the mayor, the police and Magistrate Dale were "doing more to boost the Klan than anything that could be devised."

WIDELY KNOWN INDIANA EDITOR DIES WEDNESDAY

Indianapolis, Ind., January 31.—Ernest Bross, 63, nationally known journalist and managing editor of The Indianapolis Star since 1904, died at his home here tonight after a brief illness. Mr. Bross, who has contributed many articles to leading magazines and publications, gained considerable notoriety as an English language purist and editorial writer. He was born in Newburg, Mich., in 1860. He is survived by a wife and two children.

AGREE ON RULES FOR AIR TRAFFIC CONTROL IN U. S.

Washington, January 31.—Rules for the control of air traffic have been provisionally agreed upon by government officials, army and navy experts and national associations of aviators and aircraft manufacturers. It was announced today by the bureau of standards. A complete code, covering all the points that arise in air traffic, including the rights of pedestrian and vehicular, as well as over planes ready to start a flight. Machines in distress in the air would be given full rights over other planes.

When two airplanes approach each other, each would be required to turn to the right, although the higher might rise and the lower dive in order to complete a clear passage. On overtaking another plane, an airplane would have to pass to the right instead of to the left as do roadcraft. Airplanes would be given right of way over both, as the rules follow the principle that the more easily maneuvered craft should give way to less maneuverable. It is also suggested that aviators be forbidden to drop anything from aircraft except ballast which must consist of water or fine sand.

MARIETTA SYRIANS ARE U. S. CITIZENS

Judge Sibley Sends Letter to Governor Bearing on French Inquiry.

Syrians of Marietta will have to depend upon the United States government alone to protect them from any further bomb outrages, or to capture the perpetrators of the outrage already committed, about Christmas time, according to a letter received in the governor's office Wednesday from Judge Samuel H. Sibley, who writes as a citizen of Marietta.

Judge Sibley's letter is in reference to the recent request, through Secretary of State Hughes, from the French embassy, for a report on this situation. France assumes her interest because she holds a mandate over Syria from the league of nations and that responsibility carries with it the care of Syrian citizens in foreign countries.

The Marietta Syrians are naturalized American citizens, says Judge Sibley. Therefore, it is stated, they are no concern of France, come under the sole protection of Old Glory, and the republic across the Atlantic cannot possibly raise international complications over the recent event.

LAMAR HILL RETURNS TO ATLANTA ON VISIT

Lamar Hill, former local attorney, now living in New York, is in Atlanta this week on business and is being warmly welcomed by his many friends. Mr. Hill, a native of Atlanta, practiced law here until 1917, when he entered the United States army and went to France, being commissioned a lieutenant-colonel.

On his return from France in 1919 he was stationed in New York for a year and later started practice there with W. H. Black, also a former Atlantan.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill arrived here Sunday and expect to remain until Thursday, when they will return to New York.

Posts of Legion Working to Keep National Trophy

Tents on Atlanta Streets Used in Drive for New Members.

"Tenting on the Old Camp Ground" has been changed to "Tenting on Atlanta streets" by the American legion, now in the midst of a membership drive, and busy scenes are enacted under the canvas from which, at one time, the boys hurried to battlefields instead of surging through peaceable crowds of the big home town.

Pitched in the streets in front of their headquarters at 14 1-2 Marietta street, Atlanta Post No. 1, American legion, has a tent and men are in charge at all hours enrolling new members. It's three flights up to the Marietta street club rooms, hence the move to street level for purposes of convenience and fast work.

Henry Thomas Ross Post No. 78 has headquarters in a tent at Five Points, combining membership solicitation and employment bureau. Ex-service men join the organization and then register for employment and the post helps them find a job.

Hundreds of New Members.

Hundreds of new members and renewals have been entered since the drive started on Friday, January 28, and by the time the intensive campaign is ended on February 5, records along membership lines in this part of the country undoubtedly will be broken, according to the joint leaders of the posts who have combined in their work.

Commanders B. P. Gambrell, of Atlanta Post, and Evan P. Howell, of Post 78, Wednesday expressed themselves as being highly pleased with the progress of the campaign. The goal is set for 2,500 members, and if it is not reached, both commanders say, it will not be for lack of effort on the part of the various team captains who are combing the city. Every team has from five to ten men busy.

Once a day at 12:30 o'clock, lunch con hour, there is a big gathering of team workers and legionnaires generally in the breakfast room of the Kimball House. Here reports are made of daily progress and "inspirational talks" are made by those who are directing the campaign. Big blackboards hang on the walls of the dining room carrying the sum total of the day's work.

Campaign is Watched.

The Atlanta campaign is being watched with intense interest, not only by the legion posts of every city and town in the state, but from all parts of the country. The national headquarters in Indianapolis and National Commander Alvin Owsley has sent messages of congratulation on the unusual activity shown by the local posts.

Georgia, it will be recalled, won the national trophy cup last year for its showing in membership gains, leading every state in the union. The cup is now in the possession of the Georgia department and if the lead in the present membership drive is maintained for awhile longer it is considered certain by local legionnaires that the prize will remain in the state for another year.

More than twice as many men as women died accidentally in 1929.

DIVERSIFIED FARMING CALLED DIXIE'S NEED

H. B. Craddick Says Boll Weevil May Prove Blessing to South.

"Diversified farming is largely responsible for prosperity in the middle west," according to the opinion of H. B. Craddick, Rotarian and advertising expert of Minneapolis, who is in Atlanta for a few days, "and the boll weevil should be considered a blessing by the south, for it forces the southern farmers to diversify their crops."

Business conditions in the middle west are on the boom and a great era of prosperity is at hand, he said. Little unemployment is noticeable and bank clearings and saving deposits have broken all previous records. A building record is expected by Mr. Craddick for the year 1932.

Mr. Craddick made a brief address at the Tuesday luncheon of the Atlanta club. He has held several offices in International Rotary, having been governor of the fifteenth district during 1919-20 and chairman of the international publicity in 1921. He is also a former president of the Rotary club in Indianapolis.

LABOR AGENT WANTED Governor Issues Requisition for J. E. McConnell.

J. E. McConnell, wanted in Appling county charged with operating as a labor agent without paying the tax required under the law, is now said to be in Florida and Governor Hardwick on Wednesday issued a requisition, addressed to the governor of that state, asking that he be returned to Georgia to stand trial.

The Georgia law requires that labor agents pay a tax of $1,000 for each county in which they operate, besides securing a special permit from the department of labor. The law was designed to prohibit the operation of such agents in the state.

ATLANTA RECTOR GOES TO COLUMBIA CHARGE

Rev. Hiram Kennedy Douglas, assistant rector of St. Luke's Episcopal church, left Wednesday for Columbia, Tenn., where he will assume pastoral duties in the Episcopal church of that city and will also be chaplain of the Columbia Military academy.

Tuesday was so called from the Anglo-Saxon god of war, Tu.

 Said Psyche to Cupid:
 "My dear, you're quite stupid;
 Why don't you awake?
 And go hunting—a bit?
 There're hearts which are ready;
 You ought to work steady!
 They're anxiously waiting—

"I'll tell you what I've planned to do.
"I'll write you letters full of pep,
I'll detail every new dance step,
your pleasure to me.
Drawled Cupid: "I slumber,
And don't care to cumber
My mind with false hopes;
A la Love's peckaboo,
I'm scatchfully waiting—
And—doing, no mating;
I've got to see first—
What congress will do."

I'll shoot you bull, sometimes a whopper. Sometimes I'll call you "sweet gran'poper." I'll kiss the stamp instead of lick it—
And then perhaps I'll get the ticket!"

"Do you make any reduction to minister?" asked a YOUNG woman

January 20, 1923. A ragged stranger, jobless, sad, pursued the daily news. When suddenly a smile lit up his face. For him the future naught did hold but very rosy hues. One thought, of his deep gloom, had left.

A salesman in an Atlanta store told other day.
 "Sure. Are you a minister's wife?"
 "Oh, no! I'm not married," said she, blushing.
 "Daughter, then?"
 "No," She hesitated. "I'm engaged to an Emory university student."

Complete official building permit figures for the month of January, which probably exceed $3,000,000, were unavailable Wednesday in the office of City Building Inspector C. J. Bowen, because of the illness of the record clerk.

Although final figures have not been checked it is estimated that they will be between $3,100,000 and $3,200,000, according to Mr. Bowen.

This figure will fall short of the record breaking month of October, 1922, which had a total of $3,400,000. Mr. Bowen declared, although the first day of January this year shattered all previous single day's records with a total of $1,800,000 in permits.

UNEMPLOYMENT IN ATLANTA SHOWS SMALL DECREASE

Unemployment in Atlanta during the week ending January 27 shows a slight decrease from the preceding week except in building trades, occasioned by bad weather, according to the weekly announcement of the Employers' Association of Atlanta. Domestic labor conditions in all sections of the country, the statement said, are better, while foreign conditions appear to be growing worse. Whether or not the present high production rate in American industry can continue with Europe in turmoil, is uncertain, according to the bulletin. Usually when domestic trade has been supplied and there is no outlet for the surplus.

May Begin Work On High Schools In Three Months

Bond Commission to Meet Jointly With Board of Education.

Actual work on the two new senior high schools to be erected in Atlanta under the school expansion program, will be begun within the next three months provided the bond commission's recommendations to the board of education Wednesday are followed and no delay is experienced in approving plans for the two projects, it was predicted by the bond commission members Wednesday.

At the meeting of the commission Chairman Tom Irwin introduced a resolution, unanimously passed, to urge the board of education to expedite action on the boys' high school and senior girls' high school plans. A joint meeting of the school board, of the bond commission and the board of education will be called within the next two weeks to discuss plans for these projects with A. Ben Eick Brown, supervising architect, it was announced.

Miss Laura M. Smith, member of the bond commission, introduced a motion, which was adopted, that the two school plants should not be more than two stories in height. This resolution will be conveyed to the education board along with the request that details be "speeded up" so as to permit work on the two structures to begin within the next few months.

Before the plans are approved it is necessary for the board of education to dispose of school property which is expected to add approximately $800,000 to the high schools' building fund, the commission was informed by Ed. Imman, chairman of the school committee.

Use of Caution In Voting Bonds Urged by Slaton

Former Governor Tells Masons Local Communities
Should Build Roads.

A conservative attitude on the part of the people towards voting on bond issues, and a warning test in seeking federal aid for the state in the construction of highways, they place on the shoulders of outgoing generations a burden of taxation, was sounded by John M. Slaton, former governor, in an address before members of the Masonic club at their weekly luncheon Wednesday at the Peacock cafe.

"There is a provision in the constitution that no debt should be incurred by the state without ability to pay as it goes," he said, "and as long as that principle has been adhered to Georgia has experienced a wonderful growth." He advocated exemption of taxes on state bonds and stated that to give the federal government the power to tax these bonds would imperil the sovereignty of the state. He urged that all highway problems be worked out by local communities.

In closing he declared that the preservation of state sovereignty required perpetual vigilance.

A token of appreciation for his past services as president of the club during 1922 was presented Dr. William T. Stuchell in behalf of the club by Robert Jones, Sr. The musical program was rendered by Mrs. John V. Heit, Joseph Tacan, Raymond Thompson and Earl M. Everett.

W. D. Luckie lodge has charge of arrangements for the meeting next Wednesday.

Thin? Run-down? Sure Way to Get Right Weight

Increase Your Red-Blood-Cells That's the Sure Way! S. S. S. Builds Blood-Cells; This Means Strength!

Do you know why insurance companies refuse to insure a great many people because they are under weight? Simply because to be under weight often proves low fighting-power in the body. It often means you are minus nerve-power, minus red-cells in your blood, minus health, minus energy, minus vitality. It is serious to be minus, but the moment you increase the number of your red-blood-cells, you begin to become plus. That's why S. S. S. since 1836, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women, a plus in their strength. Hollow cheeks fill out. You stop being a calamity-prone. You inspire confidence. Your body fills to the point of power, your flesh becomes firmer, the age lines that come from thinness disappear. You look younger, firmer, happier, and you feel it, too, all over your body. More red-blood-cells! S. S. S. will build them. Ladies and gentlemen, a peaky, bony face doesn't make you look very important or pretty, does it? Take S. S. S. It contains only pure vegetable medicinal ingredients. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

S. S. S. makes you feel like yourself again

REVISED PENSION BILL IS APPROVED

Committee Alters Measure Recently Vetted by Harding—Will Cost $78,000,000 First Year.

Washington, January 31.—The Bureau pension bill as modified after the recent veto of President Harding was reported favorably today by the senate pension committee, after elimination of some of the provisions objected to by the president.

The committee retained the provision of the original bill increasing the pensions of civil and Mexican war veterans from $50 to $72 a month, but modified it by limiting such increases to veterans of 78 years or over. Widows of civil and Mexican war veterans 65 years old or more would have their pensions increased to $50 under the bill. The original bill gave the increase to widows of all ages.

The revised bill, according to an estimate from the interior department, would cost $78,000,000 during the first year of its operation.

The counties through which the proposed route is charted are: Ben Hill, Irwin, Turner, Worth, Dougherty, Terrell, Randolph and Quitman, with Fitzgerald, Ashburn, Irwinville, Sylvestor, Albany, Dawson, Outhbert and Georgetown, the principal towns through which it will pass.

Prominent speakers will be invited, among them representative women of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, at whose state convention this route was endorsed. The exact date for this meeting will be announced shortly by Secretary Gelders of the highway association.

Perfect Drainage Plans.

Savannah, Ga., January 31.—(Special.)—The first steps toward a complete survey to perfect the plans of drainage already well progressing in work done last year for the absolute elimination of malaria and dengue fever will be taken tomorrow when H. N. Old, sanitary engineer of the federal health service, arrives to cooperate with local officials in going over Savannah, its environs and Chatham county.

ATLANTA CHURCH EXTENDS CALL TO AMERICUS PASTOR

Americus, Ga., January 31.—(Special.)—Rev. Henry T. Brookshire, pastor of Central Baptist church here, has received a call to become pastor of Woodward Avenue Baptist church in Atlanta.

Members of his Americus congregation are bringing pressure to bear on Dr. Brookshire in an effort to induce him to remain here, while he is prayerfully considering the call. Under his guidance Central Baptist church has largely increased its membership, and in addition, substantial strides have been made toward wiping out the church debt.

Besides his pastoral activities, Dr. Brookshire has been prominent in civic affairs since coming to Americus three years ago from Oglethorpe, being at present president of the Lions club here.

Rev. T. T. Davis, 56 Park avenue, listed in the city directory as pastor of the Woodward Avenue Baptist church, could not be reached by telephone Wednesday night.

REFUGEE VESSEL SINKS; 20 DEAD

Belated Member of Russian Fleet Rammed Off Formosa—Believe All on Board Perished.

Manila, January 31.—(By The Associated Press.)—With the arrival here today of the steamship Paris, a belated member of the fleet of Russian refugees, it was learned that her sister ship had been sunk off Formosa last week with the loss of twenty lives.

The vessel collided with the Paris in a furious storm and because of the tremendous seas, the Paris was unable to pick up any survivors. The sister ship had twenty persons aboard and all are believed to have perished. Four other ships of the fleet also were caught in the Formosa storm, but managed to weather it.

The Paris had left Formosa with thirty-two, but arrived with thirty-two, a child having been born en route.

The Russians have no plans for the future but are awaiting word from Washington as to whether they will be allowed to remain indefinitely in the Philippines.

Predict Delay in Opening Tomb of King Tutankhamen

Political Situation and Wishes of Lord Carnarvon to Have Lord Allenby Present Blamed.

BY ARTHUR WEIGALL.
(Copyright, 1923, by North American Newspaper Alliance and London Daily Mail.)

Luxor, Egypt, January 31.—An unexpected obstacle is likely to hinder the immediate opening of the inner chamber of the great Pharaoh Tutankhamen. It appears that the political situation in Cairo is somewhat tense at the moment, owing to a hitch in the framing of the new constitution. And as Lord Carnarvon would like, I believe, to open the tomb in the presence of Lord Allenby, the high commissioner, who at present cannot leave the metropolis, it is possible that the great event will be postponed for some days yet.

There was a great crowd of visitors at the tomb this morning. Americans seem to predominate in these groups of never-weary sightseers. The entrance to the valley of the kings was almost blocked with waiting donkeys and carriages and the natives are reaping a golden harvest. The excavators brought from the tomb only two, or three falcons and earthenware vases which were carried across to the workshop at such a pace that

Plan Festivities To Greet Return Of Rhine Troops

Savannah Is Being Gaily Decked for Reception of Last of "Doughboy Watch."

Savannah, Ga., January 31.—(Special.)—Ceremonies gay and festive are to feature the return to American shores of the last of the doughboy watch on the Rhine when the St. Michel docks here next Wednesday with the last contingent of the American soldiers to leave the war area. The city is being gaily decked in the national colors and three states will join in sponsoring the brilliant reception which is to take place. Included among the events featuring the return will be a military review, a brilliant banquet to be tendered the officers of the returning organizations, and a large barbecue for the enlisted personnel.

President Harding has been officially invited to attend the ceremonies and the suite de luxe at the De Soto hotel has been reserved for him and the members of his party. Other distinguished guests will include Governor Thomas W. Hardwick, of Georgia; the governors of Alabama and Florida; Superior Court Judge Peter W. Meltrin, former commander of the Georgia national guard and former president of the American Bar association; Mayor Paul Seabrook, of Savannah; Major General David Shanks, the official representative of the war department; Major General Farnsworth, chief of the infantry section; Admiral Niblick, commandant of the Charleston naval station; and others of prominence.

Will Fire Salute. A salute will be fired upon the arrival of the St. Michel from two guns presented to the city of Savannah by General George Washington, and the battery will be composed of former commanders and ranking officers of the historic Chatham artillery of this city, which served in the world war as the 118th artillery regiment.

In the afternoon the returning soldiers will head the column of the parade which also will include a command of marines from Parris Island, Georgia national guard units, members of the American legion and veterans of the Spanish-American war and the Confederate army. The marching troops will be reviewed in front of the De Soto hotel. Covers will be laid for almost 1,000 at the brilliant banquet which is to take place at night in honor of the returning officers. Judge Meltrin will officiate as toastmaster.

Dance Is Planned. While the officers are being thusly entertained a dance is to be given for the enlisted men at the Auditorium. The barbecue is expected to prove one of the most notable events held here in many years and the members of the committee working to make the reception a success are being assisted by the women of the Red Cross and the women's auxiliary of the American legion.

The reception committee is headed officially by Stephen Harris, president of the Savannah board of aldermen, and various co-workers with him include E. Ormonde Hunter, Captain Samuel Dighton, Captain Charles MacLean, Major Alexander Fawcett, Captain Wally Clark, Captain Richard Schley, Father McCarthy and others.

Harding Will Leave For Southern Trip Night of March 5

Washington, January 31.—President and Mrs. Harding expect to leave Washington the night of March 5, for their Florida trip, it was learned from sources close to the president today. No itinerary has been arranged but it is believed the first stop will be the St. Augustine, where the president enjoys the golf course, and then several stops will be made down the Florida coast.

WAYCROSS FORMS JUNIOR CHAMBER

Waycross, Ga., January 31.—(Special.)—At an enthusiastic meeting held in the chamber of commerce rooms, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, of Waycross, the youngest civic organization of the city was organized.

Officers were elected, committees appointed and the work to be undertaken by the club discussed. Geo. MacDonell was elected president of the organization, Sidney Luther, vice-president, and N. W. Burk secretary. The executive committee will be composed of O. A. Murphy, Ralph Brinson, Alford Pittman and W. D. Miller.

With the organization of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Waycross now has five civic clubs among the men of the city, namely: the Chamber of Commerce, the Kiwanis club, Lions club, University club and Junior Chamber of Commerce.

amateur photographers were balked. One of these cases, with a lid, handle and spout was of the kind of ten-cent wall paintings as a vessel used for libations and may have been used in the actual funeral ceremony. A sad little bouquet of flowers was also brought out into the sunlight, which they had last glimpsed more than 3,000 years ago.

Visits Other Tombs.

As nothing else of interest was likely to happen today I took the opportunity to visit what is called the western valley, where, in a wild and romantic desert setting are the tombs of Amenophis III, grandfather of Tutankhamen's queen, and Ay, who succeeded Tutankhamen on the throne.

Candle in hand, I went down in the depths of these two great sepulchres. I had hoped that the arrangement of the subterranean chambers would give some indication of what we may expect beyond the sealed doorway in Tutankhamen's tomb, but there was no apparent similarity in shape, although the entrances are much the same.

In one of the tombs in this western valley I found a deep shaft or well sunk in the center of the passageway—found in many royal tombs of this period—which was used both to carry off possible water and also to serve as an obstacle to robbers. Behind that mysterious sealed wall in Tutankhamen's tomb there may be such a shaft, which will delay operations again but on the whole this is unlikely.

HOLD CO-OPERATIVE HOG SALE SOON IN SUMTER COUNTY

Americus, Ga., January 31.—(Special.)—Two co-operative hog sales will be held in Sumter county early in February. The first of these will be held February 1, at the Leslie house, where George Marshall, county farm demonstration agent, expects three cars of swine will be disposed of.

The second sale will be held at the Americus penitentiary 6, and it is assumed that offerings constituting four carloads will be sold. The county agent will act as auctioneer at both sales, and bidders will be here representing numerous packing houses. As a result of the two sales, Sumter county farmers will receive around $10,000 in cash.

MONTEZUMA KIWANIS CLUB IS ORGANIZED

Montezuma, Ga., January 31.—(Special.)—A Kiwanis club was organized last night, by George A. Sullivan, field agent. A large delegation from the Americus and Cordele Kiwanis clubs was entertained at dinner at the hotel, and the club was one of the biggest and most enthusiastic occasions ever held here.

The club numbers thirty-five members. The following officers were elected: B. R. Adams, president; R. E. McGill, vice president; Jule W. Fulton, secretary and treasurer; John B. Quarry, trustee.

Capture Liquor.

Fitzgerald, Ga., January 31.—(Special.)—The unusual sight and odor of "red liquor" attracted quite a large crowd to an automobile which was parked in front of a restaurant in this city for a brief time yesterday. On investigation, local officers were informed that the car had been captured south of here and was being carried with its contraband to Macon. Revenue Officer Parr was in charge of the car, which showed signs of having been shot at, several bullet holes in the body being in evidence.

Rail Strike Continues.

The railroad strike shows no signs of improving; it is effective throughout the Ruhr and at Wiesbaden, Coblenz and Cologne. The stations between Dusseldorf, Essen, Duisburg and Ruhrort are filled with people, for the most part workers, unable to reach the city. They are bitter against the railroad men.

The municipal council of Bochum, which has been a center of opposition against the occupying powers, has posted a proclamation on the walls reading: "Germans, remain firm; make the invader feel that he is our enemy and make him realize that Germans are not dogs that lick the hand that strikes them."

The Germans have stopped the Paris-Warsaw express at the Cologne station for the past two days; no international eastbound train gets beyond Cologne.

The bottom seems to have dropped out of the exchange market. Sterling today brought 220,000 marks, the dollar 45,000 and the French franc 2,000 in Dusseldorf and Essen, with paper marks becoming scarce again.

YOUNG NEGRO ROBS SAVANNAH STORE IN "MOVIE STYLE"

Savannah, Ga., January 31.—(Special.)—In imitation of the bold robberies, depicted on the screen in the houses operated for his race, Rufus Green, a 9-year-old negro boy, is held by the police for staging a lone hand's raid on a grocery store on Duffy street.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and kills the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchitis, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.—(adv.)

McGRAW TELLS WHY HE WENT TO N. Y. AS MANAGER

Disagreement With Johnson Direct Cause of Transfer; Lost Money at Baltimore

McGraw Figured That President Johnson
Would Leave Orioles In Lurch If He Founded Franchise in Gotham.

BY JOHN J. MCGRAW.

Toward the end of our 1900 season at St. Louis there was great excitement in the newspapers and among the players over the growth of the American league, the raids for players, the abrogation of the reserve clause in contracts, big governmental changes in the National league—oh, a lot of things.

Everybody in baseball felt nervous and ill at ease. Neither the players nor the owners knew exactly what was coming. The problem of the game was evident. The problem of the game was evident. The problem of the game was evident.

With Baltimore, Washington and Cleveland out of the National league it was quite evident that Ban Johnson and his associates would grab that territory and expand what had been the Western league into big league territory.

Toward the end of the season I had received several letters on the subject. At the end of my season with the St. Louis club I met Ban Johnson and Charles Comiskey in Chicago by appointment and we went over the whole situation. They wanted to get in Baltimore and so did I. Naturally a man who had played there on the old Orioles was obviously the man to have the club. He knew the people. That is how Robinson and myself fitted in.

We talked over the player situation at length and I assured them that I could help in getting players. It was finally decided that Robinson and myself would have the Baltimore franchise—would practically own all the stock; that Comiskey's St. Paul club would move to Chicago and Jim Manning would take the Washington club.

Mind you, I was a free agent, empowered by my contract with the St. Louis club to sign with any club that I pleased. This also was the case of Wilbert Robinson.

ORGANIZATION OF AMERICAN LEAGUE.
The American league, as we formed it then, was composed of Boston, Baltimore, Washington and Philadelphia in the east and Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit and St. Louis in the west.

The fans of Baltimore were delighted at having a new major league club. We started out well and put much of our Oriole spirit into the new team.

HOW TO GET RID OF CATARRH
A Simple, Safe, Inexpensive Method That Clears Out the Head, Nose and Throat.

There is no disease more offensive or disagreeable, or no disease that will lead to as much serious trouble as catarrh. You can now get rid of it by a simple, safe, pleasant home remedy discovered by Dr. Blosser.

Dr. Blosser's Remedy is composed of medicinal herbs, flowers and berries, which you smoke in a dainty pipe or cigarette.

The smoke-vapor is inhaled into the nasal passages of the head, nose, throat and lungs and carries medicine where a spray cannot possibly reach. Its effect is soothing and healing and is entirely harmless. It contains no cubes or tobacco, and may be used by women and children as well as men.

If you suffer from catarrh, asthma, catarrhal deafness, or if subject to frequent colds, you should try Dr. Blosser's Remedy which may be had at any drug store or if you desire a proof of its beneficial and pleasant effect, send ten cents (coin or stamp) to The Blosser Co., 27 BD, Atlanta, Ga., for a trial package.

LEADER CLUB LOSES, 29 TO 25

Two fast games of basketball were played in the Prade league Wednesday night on the Auditorium-Armory court. The Western Electric team, minus the services of "Bill" Fincher and Leonard Mumford, beat the great little Leaders' club 29 to 25 in a snappy game. By winning the game Wednesday night, the Western Electric team continues to lead the league with a perfect record. DeMolay beat Calvary Methodist church 26 to 16 in the first half ended the game.

Early in the first half the Electric team started a passing game that completely baffled the Leaders' club and when the first half ended the Electric were on the long end of a 19 to 10 score.

In the second half the fighting spirit of the Leaders' club was somewhat and before 10 minutes and elapsed the score was knotted and a hot game was in progress. First one team and then the other was in the lead until the final minutes of play when the Western Electric team left and looped a couple through the hoops and put the game in the won column.

The lineups:

'STRIB' WILL BATTLE KUHN

Macon, Ga., January 31.—(Special.) Young Stribling, who thoroughly enjoyed Harry Krohn Tuesday night in Atlanta, has been matched to meet George Kuhn, of New Orleans, in Macon on February 8, in a ten-round feature bout on a program sponsored by the Macon Athletic club.

In the semi-final bout Lew Silver, of Atlanta, will meet Young Pittman, Macon battler, in a ten-rounder. Harry Krohn, who fought Kuhn Tuesday night in Atlanta, will fight Hays, of Atlanta, an eight-round battle. Another six-round fight will be included on the card. It was announced by the Macon Athletic club.

Since Strib has made such a wonderful impression upon Atlanta fans in his bout there Tuesday, when it was reported that he had defeated Kuhn, it is expected that Macon will express its appreciation of the boy more fully by turning out a record crowd for the Kuhn fight.

Stribling returned to Macon at 7 o'clock this morning, having spent several hours on route home from Atlanta. Traveling in an auto, his party was delayed because of a dense fog encountered, necessitating exceedingly slow traveling.

Despite the long, tiresome ride home and the sleepless night, Strib attended all of his classes at Lanier this morning and practiced with the Lanier basketball team in the afternoon—a truly a fine tribute to physical perfection. Strib received today his report card, showing that he had excellent grades in all his studies.

SEMINARY GIRLS TRIMMED BY FULTON

Fulton High girls put it over the Washington Seminary five in the basketball game Tuesday afternoon at the Boys' High court by making the score 19 to 10.

It was a close fight but Fulton got ahead and kept ahead, although the Seminary girls stuck to them night well. Susie Terrell and Smith made most of the points for Fulton. Susie is a good little player. She shot four field goals, Hudson, Allen, Terrell and Smith. Margaret Napier was the mainstay of the Seminary team, and made 4 of their 10 points. Rawlins shot two field goals and Powell one. Seminary was good in passing and the outcome of the game was uncertain until the very last.

WESLEY QUINTET
HOLDS STRONG
Y. W. TEAM

Much to the surprise of everybody and especially the Y. W. girls, Wesley five came out well in the game of Tuesday night on Wesley court. The Wesley team, which was composed of Wesley, Wesley, Wesley, Wesley, Wesley, held the Y. W. team 29 to 25.

Wesley fumbled pretty badly. They played a worse game than they have ever played on Wesley court. Ban Johnson, put in most of the goals for Wesley. Chapman made a nice field goal in the second period and the other 8 points were made by Wesley. For the Y. W. team, Craddock played the best game. She is a guard and a half, and had it not been for her, Y. W. girls would have fared badly. Launius, Garrett, Ash, and Craddock made the points for their team. Early in the game, Mann was taken out and Garrett put in, and in the last few minutes of play Ash went out and Hucky went in.

Holt refereed and Elrod was umpire.

WESTMINSTER IS DEFEATED BY PHILIA

Philia girls beat Westminster 15 to 5 Tuesday night on Wesley court. The game was not very exciting after the Y. W. affair, but it was pretty good. Cassels and Nichols shot all Philia's goals except one. Nichols displayed some good floor work, and is a good shot, too. Cassels put them in with uncanny accuracy. Beasley made the score for Westminster. Heartill and Everett played well for the losers.

Twenty-Three Baseball Games for Mercer Team

Schedule Opens on March
28, When Yale Will Be Played Brace of Games
at Macon Park.

Macon, Ga., January 31.—(Special.) Twenty-three games plus two pending contests compose the tentative schedule of the Mercer baseball team, season 1933, by Manager J. H. "Mike" Terrell.

Mercerians open the season on March 28 at Central City park with Yale as the opponent and repeat the performance the next day. These two compose the home schedule for Mercer until April 20. In the meantime the Mosley-Cody crew will spend ten days on the road in Tennessee and Alabama, playing eight games against four opponents. This trip will supersede the usual jaunt into Florida and will be the first one in several seasons that Mercer has had into this territory. Three teams, who heretofore have not appeared against Mercer in baseball, will be encountered on this journey in Oglethorpe, Cumberland and Birmingham-Southern.

The locals have a list of stiff opponents beginning the week after their return. Oglethorpe, Vanderbilt, Tech, North Carolina and Mississippi will appear in the order named. Only two of these teams were in Macon last season, Vandy and Tech, while the other three have not been clashed with Mercer on a local diamond.

The season will be closed with a series of four games against Georgia five days, two to be played here. This will give Mercer fans a chance to see contests and there is a possibility that two more will be added. The only dates now open are May 11 and 12. Athletic Director Cody and Manager Terrell hope to have Auburn come here for those two days. Negotiations are also pending with other colleges in case the Tiger games fall through.

Cody Mosley continued today to compile a list of teams through their paces on Alumni field. The program of hunting and batting was followed. The schedule follows:

March 28-29, Oglethorpe in Macon.
April 6-7, Oglethorpe in Atlanta.
April 9-10, Cumberland in Lebanon, Tennessee.
April 11-12, Vanderbilt in Nashville.
April 13-14, Birmingham-Southern in Birmingham.
April 15-16, Oglethorpe in Macon.
April 25-26, Vanderbilt in Macon.
April 27-28, Tech in Macon.
May 3, North Carolina in Macon.
May 4-5, Mississippi college in Macon.
May 11-12, open.
May 15-16, Georgia in Athens.
May 18-19, Georgia in Macon.

Tech Basketball Squad
Crippled by Injuries

BY ALBERT STATION.
Another accident occurred during scrimmage Wednesday at Tech. Douglass Wycoff, the giant center of the freshman team, suffered a sprained ankle in almost identical the same manner the Joe Eckford, the varsity center, did in the Clemson game. This means that he will be lost to the freshman team for the next two games.

"Crip" Eckford was a spectator at the practice for the first time since his injury. He hopes to be in shape for the game against Alabama, the class of the south. This calls to mind the fact that although Tech began the season with all of her last year's varsity back, they have not been available for any games after the first two. They started the game against the first half of the first half and the first half of the second. They played most of the game against Mercer and the rest of the game against Clemson.

Since the injuries and flu have been busy, Jenks and Brewster were down with the flu in succession and down with the flu in succession. The game Saturday will be the sixth straight game that Tech has been minus the services of one or more of its best players. Bud Odum, who Tech has won every game in which she has not had her full team in. The varsity continued their good work by taking the freshmen for a ride in the scrimmage Wednesday. The freshmen only scoring two field goals the entire afternoon. The varsity men were traveling at a fast clip than they have at any time this year, and if Florida beats them, they will have to show more stuff than they did in the game against Alabama. We freely admit Alabama is good.

Jenks and Dennicke at forwards, Brewster at center and Roane and Staton at guards formed the combination for the day, a new one because of Captain Jenks' return to the fray after his recent illness. Brewster and Dennicke and Roane are three men hard to beat in handling the ball on the floor and Jenks is the best follow-up man on the squad. The freshmen met the Gordon institute team Saturday night. They have played Gordon once this year and beaten them 35 to 10, the Gordon team failing to score a single goal from the field, which is about a record as far as we can determine. Since that time the Gordon team has improved, however, and now claim to possess three all-prep men in their lineup. The freshmen will be crippled by the loss of Wycoff but strengthened by the addition of King, who has managed to get himself out probation, and Brown who was in the same boat as King. The team will probably line up with King and Red Barrow forwards, Brooks and Wilder guards, and Draper center.

Their game immediately precedes varsity game, starting at 7:30 o'clock, and between the halves of this game and the varsity game, Professor Elrod's boxing class will put on another exhibition, similar to the one which proved so popular last Saturday night.

Manager Air Line team, of Savannah, stated that the team has been improved by the loss of Wycoff but strengthened by the addition of King, who has managed to get himself out probation, and Brown who was in the same boat as King. The team will probably line up with King and Red Barrow forwards, Brooks and Wilder guards, and Draper center.

Two Heavy Hitters.
Millen had two outfielders last year in B. Ryd and Daniel who hit over 400 and were big factors in Millen winning so many games. Millen has splendid enclosed grounds and good games between strong clubs are well patronized there. The Smith brothers, who look after the team, want the World's Fair team to play two games in Millen in April.

Auburn Five Defeated.
Greenville, S. C., January 31.—(Special.)—Purman university uncorked a surprise tonight by defeating Auburn at basketball by a score of 43 to 22. On pre-game dope the two teams were regarded as about even, the visiting Tigers holding a small edge.

Riverside Working.
Gainesville, Ga., January 31.—(Special.)—Riverside cadets are getting down to hard work in athletics, particularly in basketball, and a team will soon be announced which will be entered in the state tournament at Macon the latter part of February. Already great rivalry is shown for places on the first team.

American farm machinery is coming into use in northern Ireland, despite the small size of the farms.

How Fat Actress
Was Made Slim

Many stage people now depend entirely upon Marmola Prescription Tablets for reducing and controlling fat. One clever actress tells that she reduced steadily and easily by using this form of the famous Marmola Prescription, and now, by taking one or two tablets at a time, she keeps her weight just right. All good druggists sell Marmola Prescription Tablets at one dollar for a case, or if you prefer you can secure them direct from the Marmola Co., 323 Westwood Ave., Detroit, Mich. SCHEDULE OF G. I. A. A. MEET

BY ROY E. WHITE.
W. A. Alexander, the commissioner of the G. I. A. A., announced the G. I. A. A. basketball tournament schedule Wednesday. The schedule was drawn up just before midnight Monday night at the league meeting but because of several discrepancies the matter was left in the hands of Alexander and he immediately got busy and framed up a schedule.

There will be ten teams entered in the G. I. A. A. basketball tournament which will be held in Macon February 21, 22, 23 and 24. Atlanta will have four teams entered in the tournament, Tech High, Boys' High, University and Commercial High.

The upper bracket is composed of Gordon institute, G. M. C., Lanier High, University and Riverside, while the lower bracket is made up of Tech High, Boys' High, Monroe, Commercial and Griffin.

Play will start Wednesday night when Gordon institute and G. M. C. will meet, followed by Griffin and Commercial High Thursday afternoon and night four games will be played. Friday night only two games will be completed.

As the brackets are arranged, three Atlanta teams are in the lower bracket and one in the upper one. Tech High and Boys' High will not have an opportunity of meeting each other unless they should meet in the semifinals on Friday night.

Six teams will enter the intra-collegiate contests for the university championship, and three of the six will come from the school of liberal arts. The theological school will enter with the hope somewhat in their favor after the loss the last year suffered by having Oastler out of school this term. Oastler was one of the most consistent point getters that the barometers had, and his loss is sure to tell in the way the solons stand in the runners-up.

Many Veterans.
The theologians have several men who have played basketball before on college fives and who know all the tricks of the trade. Besides them, who held down one of the places on the last team last season, is now with that squad: Brendall, one of Trinity's former five and a credit to the Far West team, is with the Emory preachers; Al Staton, one of the Yellow Jacket stars, will take the field with

The schedule:
Wednesday night, February 21, Gordon v. G. M. C. and Griffin High v. Commercial High.
Thursday, February 22, Lanier High v. winner Gordon-G. M. C.; University v. winner Griffin-Boys' High; Tech High v. winner Griffin-Commercial.
Friday, February 23, Winner Lanier High v. winner University-Riverside game; winner Boys' High v. winner Tech High game, and play for third and fourth places.
Saturday night, February 24, winner of upper bracket v. winner of lower bracket for the championship.

"Babe" Adams Signs.
Pittsburg, January 31.—"Babe" Adams, veteran pitcher of the Pittsburg National league baseball team, tonight that he would sign a contract to play with Pittsburg during the coming season.

Several days ago it was reported Adams had signed a four-year contract to pitch for an independent team in Missouri but owners of the Pittsburg team have the matter left in abeyance until a letter from the veteran told of an offer from the western team.

Theolog Basket Quintet At Emory Is Powerful

Preachers Will Be Given
Assistance by Al Staton and Other College Basketball Stars.

BY HERMAN D. HANCOCK.
The delayed basketball schedules of Emory university will begin Tuesday, according to announcement by the basketball manager. The delay was caused by the construction of a new court on the university campus, but the contractors have promised to deliver the court to the basketball committee February 5. The committee composed of Dr. James Steadman, Track Smathers, Bruce Puckett, chairman of the university student body, and Professor J. B. Peebles will inspect the completed court Monday.

It has been the intention of the university authorities to make the new structure suffice until the large gymnasium has been built. The court will be used as a gymnasium after the basketball schedules have been completed. The new court will be equipped with a hard wood floor and will be very much superior to the courts which the students have been able to obtain for the games in Atlanta in the past. Besides the fact that the added convenience of having a court on the campus.

Six teams will enter the intra-collegiate contests for the university championship, and three of the six will come from the school of liberal arts. The theological school will enter with the hope somewhat in their favor after the loss the last year suffered by having Oastler out of school this term. Oastler was one of the most consistent point getters that the barometers had, and his loss is sure to tell in the way the solons stand in the runners-up.

Many Veterans.
The theologians have several men who have played basketball before on college fives and who know all the tricks of the trade. Besides them, who held down one of the places on the last team last season, is now with that squad: Brendall, one of Trinity's former five and a credit to the Far West team, is with the Emory preachers; Al Staton, one of the Yellow Jacket stars, will take the field with

The schedule:
Wednesday night, February 21, Gordon v. G. M. C. and Griffin High v. Commercial High.
Thursday, February 22, Lanier High v. winner Gordon-G. M. C.; University v. winner Griffin-Boys' High; Tech High v. winner Griffin-Commercial.
Friday, February 23, Winner Lanier High v. winner University-Riverside game; winner Boys' High v. winner Tech High game, and play for third and fourth places.

Two Heavy Hitters.
Millen had two outfielders last year in B. Ryd and Daniel who hit over 400 and were big factors in Millen winning so many games. Millen has splendid enclosed grounds and good games between strong clubs are well patronized there. The Smith brothers, who look after the team, want the World's Fair team to play two games in Millen in April.

Auburn Five Defeated.
Greenville, S. C., January 31.—(Special.)—Purman university uncorked a surprise tonight by defeating Auburn at basketball by a score of 43 to 22. On pre-game dope the two teams were regarded as about even, the visiting Tigers holding a small edge.

Riverside Working.
Gainesville, Ga., January 31.—(Special.)—Riverside cadets are getting down to hard work in athletics, particularly in basketball, and a team will soon be announced which will be entered in the state tournament at Macon the latter part of February. Already great rivalry is shown for places on the first team.

American farm machinery is coming into use in northern Ireland, despite the small size of the farms.

How Fat Actress
Was Made Slim

Many stage people now depend entirely upon Marmola Prescription Tablets for reducing and controlling fat. One clever actress tells that she reduced steadily and easily by using this form of the famous Marmola Prescription, and now, by taking one or two tablets at a time, she keeps her weight just right. All good druggists sell Marmola Prescription Tablets at one dollar for a case, or if you prefer you can secure them direct from the Marmola Co., 323 Westwood Ave., Detroit, Mich. If you have not tried them do so. They are harmless and effective.—(adv.)

WESLEY QUINTET
HOLDS STRONG
Y. W. TEAM

Much to the surprise of everybody and especially the Y. W. girls, Wesley five came out well in the game of Tuesday night on Wesley court. The Wesley team, which was composed of Wesley, Wesley, Wesley, Wesley, Wesley, held the Y. W. team 29 to 25.

Wesley fumbled pretty badly. They played a worse game than they have ever played on Wesley court. Ban Johnson, put in most of the goals for Wesley. Chapman made a nice field goal in the second period and the other 8 points were made by Wesley. For the Y. W. team, Craddock played the best game. She is a guard and a half, and had it not been for her, Y. W. girls would have fared badly. Launius, Garrett, Ash, and Craddock made the points for their team. Early in the game, Mann was taken out and Garrett put in, and in the last few minutes of play Ash went out and Hucky went in.

Holt refereed and Elrod was umpire.

WESTMINSTER IS DEFEATED BY PHILIA

Philia girls beat Westminster 15 to 5 Tuesday night on Wesley court. The game was not very exciting after the Y. W. affair, but it was pretty good. Cassels and Nichols shot all Philia's goals except one. Nichols displayed some good floor work, and is a good shot, too. Cassels put them in with uncanny accuracy. Beasley made the score for Westminster. Heartill and Everett played well for the losers.

RAY BREAKS OWN RECORD

New York, January 31.—Joie Ray, of the Illinois A. C., Chicago, broke his own world's record for the mile and a half indoors at the Milrose Athletic club games at Madison Square Garden tonight by finishing in 8 minutes, 41 4-5 seconds.

This was Ray's third indoor mile and a half race, and he has won the Wamnamaker cup, the event trophy, and marked the sixth time in seven years that he has won this race. His previous record was 8:43 3-5 seconds was made last year.

The Chicago taxi driver jumped into the lead at the gun, lapped his field before the mile ended, and broke the tape 100 yards in front of Ray Baker, of Chicago, who was second. William Goodwin, of the New York A. C., was third.

Jimmy Connolly, Georgetown university, broke the world's record for the two-thirds-mile run when he won the second section of this special event in 2:43 3-5 seconds.

Connolly was hard pressed to win by Ray Watson, of the Illinois A. C.

OGLETHORPE TO NAME COACH
TODAY

At a luncheon to be tendered members of the board of founders at the Oglethorpe hotel today, at noon, Oglethorpe university authorities will name the head coach to succeed Russell Stein, who resigned shortly after the close of the recent gridiron campaign.

While no hint has been given out concerning the identity of the new coach, it is known in collegiate athletic circles that various men of high standing in sportland have been interviewed by officials in charge of Oglethorpe's athletic program.

The chances are that the new coach will not report until the start of the next school year, as Frank Anderson, faculty athletic director, will continue in charge of the track and baseball teams to be put out by the university.

The Constitution's Novel-a-Week Too Many Crooks

BY E. J. RATH

Next Week, "The Mantle of Silence"

By E. J. Rath

Wright looked at her sharply. He knew the secret. Should he tell it? The hand of the master crook chanced to discover hers under the table, and transmitted a quick pressure of reassurance. And then the hands remained clasped. Charlotte was conscious neither of surprise nor disinclination. Certainly Bidwell Wright was a comfort.

Twice the Chipmunk arose from his place and went to a window, where he cautiously drew aside a curtain, careful to avoid casting a shadow upon it, and peered out into the gloom. It was soon after his second trip that he suddenly cast his napkin on the table and pushed his plate from him.

"Dicks (detectives)," he said abruptly.

Frisco Jimmy started violently and the silverware and china rattled from one end of the table to the other. The Walrus half rose from his chair and then subsided back into it. Boston Fanny hastily sipped water. Even old Bill Remington, veteran of many a long campaign, displayed a trembling hand as he laid down his coffee cup.

"What did you say?" asked Charlotte.

"The joint's framed!" snapped Benny, eyeing her suspiciously. "There's a lotta dicks outside. What's the idea, hey?"

"Yeh—what's the game?" demanded Frisco. "I got a rumble (alarm, suspicion) myself."

"I don't understand," said Charlotte.

"Then it's about time you made it," declared Fanny, as she tapped a significant finger on the table. "I been rap to it (I understood it) for the last two hours. Where's the protection stuff? Who's been hollerin' murder? What do we do—stick around or flag it for the jungle?"

"Slip us the low-down, princess," urged Frisco huskily and even hopefully, for he still retained a glimmer of faith.

"Let's get the straight about this protection," said Fanny in business-like tones. "Is it fixed or not?"

She was looking at Wright, but that gentleman affected not to observe her. He was thinking rapidly.

"I, too, would like an explanation," observed Frisco. "What is meant by all this talk of protection?"

A company of amazed crooks directed their glances at him with one accord. The mouth of Frisco Jimmy King wide open.

Blackstone had risen to his feet and commanded silence with a glare. Then he looked down at Charlotte.

"Perhaps I should explain to you," he said nervously. "In order that our friends might feel perfectly at ease during their stay, it was deemed wisest to give them assurances of complete protection. That matter was placed entirely in my hands." He steadily averted his eyes from Wright.

"That is what they all mean when they speak of protection?"

"But why should anybody have required any protection?" inquired Charlotte, turning to Bidwell Wright.

Boston Fanny pushed her chair back from the table and arose grimly.

"If that's the game you're playing—this 'don't know' stuff—then I'll explain," she said. "You don't get away with this on any misunderstanding, kiddo. When Bid brought us out to this joint, we all had a little get-together—Bid and the mouthpiece and the rest of us. We went to work in a swell mob. Bid told us—every kind of work. The old one, being the main Jukes, had the big drag. Everybody fixed. The princess, being a Jukes herself, is in on the work, too. 'Go to it,' said Bid. 'Get busy. Clean up. Nothing can touch you. You're in the hands and under the protection of the two grandest crooks on this side of the ocean.'"

Fanny paused and looked at Wright for confirmation. He shrugged.

"So what do we do? We hop to it. Why not? What are we here for? Frisco and the Walrus, and the Chipmunk and me—we all start working in the line. Safe as church—that was the word we got. Bid said so; the mouthpiece said so. We'd get a big split from the old one. We had a fine line of family tree stuff handed to us about the original Mr. and Mrs. Jukes, and the little Jukeses, all the way down to the old one and the princess. Oh, yes; a swell point, with a 'No Trespass' sign up against all the dicks."

Charlotte, her cheeks white, was gripping the table with both hands. Opposite sat Erastus B. Browning, his portly form rigid and his face alarmingly red.

"Well, that's the layout we get from Mr. Bidwell Wright, who says he's a Jukes himself," declared Fanny with fine scorn. "How does the game go? Is it on the level? No, it ain't! As near as I can find out, all we get is nothing at all but rough talk from Princess Kiddo and a whole fleet of flaties hanging around outside, waiting to pull the joint."

The little woman turned savagely upon Charlotte.

"Here's the cards on the table," she said. "The whole outfit. How about it?"

Charlotte Browning paused for an awful instant, trying to steady herself in the midst of a room that seemed to be a den of thieves.

"Suppose we admit, for the sake of argument, that it is a play," observed the Walrus judicially. "What has it got to do with us? At present I think none of us is interested in the drama."

"It concerns you because you are in it," answered Charlotte coolly. "Every one of you is in it."

There was an instant of silence, and then Fanny rallied.

"Give us the goods, kiddo," she advised. "I'll bite at anything."

"I can explain easily in a few words," said Charlotte, as she laid the manuscript in front of her. "Some time ago I decided to write this play. It deals entirely with—persons of your profession. In order to make an accurate study of characters, it was necessary to meet them in close association. Therefore, you were all invited to my home. That is the reason you are here—and there is no other."

She met unflinchingly a series of bewildered stares. Bidwell Wright was standing behind Charlotte, his arms folded, and his manner one of abstraction.

"Whatever this man may have told you to the contrary," said Charlotte frigidly, without even a glance toward him, "was absolutely untrue. He knows why you were here; he brought you here for the very purpose I had in mind. This is not a headquarters for thieves; it is my residence. My father and myself are not crooks; he is a banker and I am a playwright."

"But this guy tells us to get busy and clean up," declared Fanny, pointing at Wright.

"He did it without my knowledge or consent," replied Charlotte.

"And this mouthpiece," continued Fanny, pointing at Blackstone, "said the flaties were all fixed, how about it?"

"I never heard of it until tonight," she said. "We come out here and get the office to get busy, and we do it. And then the first we know there's a lot of fly mugs, and bulls hornin' in. They're outside now. Somebody slips us a fairy story about protection, but I don't see any. So what does it all mean?"

Fanny paused and made a survey of her fellow guests. They were breathless with attention.

"Well, here's my idea," said Fanny, with a piercing glance at Charlotte. "You and the old one are a couple of dicks! It's all a plant to frame us, that's what it is. You get the goods on the whole bunch, and then the tip-off goes to headquarters."

Every guest of the Browning household was on his feet. The Chipmunk made another hasty trip to the window and came back trembling. Frisco began swearing to himself, while the Walrus showed symptoms of panic.

"I tell you that neither my father nor myself is a crook nor a detective," declared Charlotte firmly. "We are just people."

"Quit pulling that stuff on us," warned Fanny. "We're wired up at last. It's a wonder we didn't get next quicker. What are you going to do about it? You're running a long chance, kiddo, if you think you're going to land me in the cattle."

Charlotte finding herself the center of a ring of excited guests, became apprehensive. She tried to draw away, but they followed menacingly. It was then that Bidwell Wright took a hand.

"Leave this to me," he said sharply, addressing everybody. "I'm in charge."

Until that moment Charlotte had been oblivious to his existence. Now she turned and regarded him suspiciously, yet not without a faint feeling of hope.

"Mr. Browning," he commanded, "take your daughter out of the room, if you please."

There was a growl from the crooks. "No you don't! They'll call the flaties!" snapped Fanny.

Wright raised his hand for silence. "Keep still, you fools!" he said angrily. "They'll hear you outside. I'll take care of this business. I'm the boss now."

"Yeh? An' howda we know you ain't a dick yerself?" demanded Frisco.

Wright answered him with a look that made even the veteran yegg draw back.

"Go ahead, Miss Browning," he added, turning to Charlotte. "You and your father go into the library or upstairs. Leave these people with me. I'll attend to them."

Mr. Browning came forward nervously and took his daughter by the arm. As they moved toward the door the Chipmunk started to block the way.

"I'll climb the first man that interferes," said Wright. "Stand aside, you little rat!"

Benny slunk as Charlotte and her father made the passage to the door that led into the hall.

Wright surveyed his audience with an attentiveness that each of them repaid with interest. He appeared to be working upon some sort of mental calculation.

"Well?" demanded Fanny in a shrill tone, when the silence became exasperating. "What's the word?"

"Lam (run)!" answered Wright. "Huh?" mumbled Frisco.

"Best it—flag it—screw your nut," the master crook elaborated.

Sonata Program
Pleases Members
Of Music Club

Musical America is awake to the fact that to educate the people musically they must be given educational programs. Musical Atlanta is giving her people uplifting culture programs through the efforts of the Atlanta Music club.

Their program chairman is Miss Nana Tucker. Her program Wednesday morning was on the subject of the Sonata. After an intensely interesting and illuminating talk on the development of the Sonata form given by Miss Tucker herself in her own inimitable manner, illustrations of the evolutions of the Sonata were given by Miss Blanche Roberts, Merrill Hutchinson, Mrs. Charles Murray, Miss Eda Bartholomew and Mrs. Charles Dowman.

The two movements from the piano Sonata in E minor by Hayden were played by Miss Roberts. Her interpretation was marked by excellent musicianship, intelligence and historical understanding.

Mr. Hutchinson played one movement each from three of Mozart's Sonatas for piano. His playing of these showed his thorough training in the classical school, being scholarly, convincing and musical.

The famous "Kreutzer Sonata" of Beethoven Op. 47, for violin and piano, was next played by Mr. Murray and Miss Bartholomew. Mrs. Murray's plasticity of phrasing and purity of tone, and the artistic interpretation of the equally important piano part by Miss Bartholomew, made a rare musical treat of this seldom-heard program number.

The F minor Sonata of Brahms was the final number on the program and was played in its entirety of five beautiful movements by Mrs. Charles Dowman. It was a performance of great authority in seizing and presenting the essential spirit of the different movements and of great beauty in its delineation of the structural design, in its fine sense of proportion and in its wealth of tonal coloring.

Confessions of a Debutante

BY RUTH AGNES ABELING

INSTALLMENT NO. 16. "A Blue Flame."

Monday, December 18.

And so now, I am here in my room once more dressed to meet my future husband—Jonathan Grey. Once more!

Strangely—perhaps not strangely because she has been occupied with her own problems—mother did not ask me about my absence.

The motor is at the door. They are calling me.

Presently I shall start across the room—towards the party, towards my future. And with every step I take, thinking: this thousand for a wrap, this thousand toward the chauffeur's salary; this thousand for Elsie's party; another thousand for Elsie's party; another—until I tell off eight—ten or twenty of them!

And so on for the rest of my life! Jonathan Grey—my husband!

Coming events do not cast their shadows before! If they did I should have been blinded by a blue flame all during my ride to my betrothal party. My betrothal party!

Elsie was in the car with mother and dad when I climbed in. It was her first real party. Since she is 2 years younger than I her coming-out is yet a thing to look forward to.

"Jonathan was dear enough to tell me to bring Elsie along—he sent a little note this morning. Strangely enough he didn't mention the most important girl! Mother smiled at me."

"I'm glad for Elsie," was all I

Assisting Mrs. Chalmers in entertaining will be Mrs. Sam Miles. After the business meeting a delightful program will be given, using the second series of the state club program. The subject will be "George Washington."

General Shanks, of Fort McPherson, will give a talk on "Washington and Patriotism." Instances in Washington's life will be given by Mrs. D. L. Carson; "Washington's Inauguration," by Mrs. Howard Smith, and "Facts Concerning the English Home" of Washington—Sulgrave," by Mrs. Oscar Ragland. The musical program will be furnished by Mrs. Charles Chalmers.

The home will be beautifully decorated with flags and flowers appropriate to the occasion.

Mrs. Katherine Kling is president of the Woman's Relief corps which office she has filled for several years. Every spring she is in charge of the Woman's Relief corps services which decorate the soldiers' graves in the national cemetery in Marietta, Ga. Under her leadership the relief corps has accomplished a great deal of good work. She hopes to make this the best year.

Girl Reserves and Scouts Will Hold Health Carnival

A health carnival on March 16 will close the health trail in which 350 Y. W. C. A. Girl Reserves and Girl Scouts are registered.

Health stunts, health songs, health posters, demonstrations and daily health habits will constitute the awards for carnival honors. All the girls taking part in the trail have been weighed and measured. An accurate record of each girl's physical standard is being kept in order that at the close of the campaign the girls themselves may know what they have gained or lost in health.

The health program for the school girls is being conducted by the council of girl agencies which is made up of representatives from every organization in Atlanta that is promoting a program for girls. Mrs. E. K. Large is council president.

Forsyth Stars Are Honored.

The banquet hall committee of the Atlanta Woman's club entertained at luncheon Wednesday at the Woman's club, Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith, chairman, presided, assisted by Mrs. B. M. Boykin, president.

Honor guests at the luncheon were Miss Belle Bennett, her father, William Bennett, and Mrs. Lytle, stars of the Forsyth players.

The tables were decorated with pink sweet peas and ferns. Reports were heard from the various committees who are raising money to pay the cost of the erection of the banquet hall. Mrs. Price-Smith reported that the $2,500 necessary for the next payment on the banquet hall had been raised. She brought in $1,100 of this amount.

could think of to say.

Elsie is a lovely little tom-boy of a thing. Shorter than I and sturdier of figure. Possibly a little prettier, if it can be right down to a choice. She was luxuriously wrapped in furs. She revelled in soft finery and it suited her.

This thousand for school; another thousand for school; this thousand for a party; another thousand for a party; another thousand—Crazily the thing ran through my mind.

Looking at Elsie cuddled softly in her corner of the car. I used to cuddle like that. Somewhere within the past 24 hours I had changed.

About myself, a certain timidity and coldness, a certain firmness of purpose, which was new and different.

It seems in an incredibly short space of time a female being can step as completely out of girl days as if they never were, and be a woman with a sense of experience back of her. The change is not gradual. It comes like a flash, in an instant of understanding.

I had come to that instant. Elsie had not, yet. That was the chief difference between us.

The car slowed down at the ball room entrance of the hotel. Jonathan had planned quite an elaborate affair. An orchestra was strumming when we entered. Evidently we were late.

In the dressing room I looked at my watch. It was a quarter of nine. The hour indicated by Jonathan had been 8:30. Fifteen minutes was little enough latitude, and for me, the honor guest, the one around whom the whole event had been built! But surely there was the rattle of china and silver. I wondered vaguely how Jonathan dared to go on with the seat beside him empty.

"Hurry, child, we're late already!" Mother's tone was a shade impatient. I could see that she too was a trifle puzzled at the shape things had taken.

"Do believe serving has begun," she continued as the four of us moved towards the door.

Mother shoved me ahead of her into the room. And then I stood wordless, motionless.

There, in the circle of brilliant light which encompassed the table sat Jonathan, smiling fixedly, and beside him was a girl whom I had never seen!

A blue flame leaped from her left hand as she raised it to her throat. (Copyright, 1923, for The Constitution.)

Home-made Remedy Stops Coughs Quickly

The best cough medicine you ever used. A family remedy easily and quickly made. Saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good.

Pour 1/2 ounce of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead for sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, whooping cough, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for healing membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions and get a second anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

How to Make the Best Coffee

Coffee Made In This French Drip Coffee Pot

satisfies the taste of the most

Critical

Insert the muslin and place in the coffee. Pour boiling water through the strainer.

TRY IT!

Fill a kettle with fresh cold water and put it on to boil. Place over the Coffee Pot a clean, wet, old linen napkin, or a new square of unbleached muslin, letting it sag toward the center. Put into the depression four tablespoonfuls (for four cups of coffee) of finely pulverized coffee. This fine pulverization is very important. Ordinary ground coffee will not do at all, and gives weak infusions. Place on top of Pot the perforated lid so as to hold cloth in position.

When the water in the kettle is boiling fiercely, pour it through the coffee slowly until four cupfuls have gone through.

These are the directions of the National Association of Coffee Roasters adapted to the best pot on the market. It is made of Petrosan ware, and has no metal to get sour.

RADIO DEPARTMENT

JUNIOR CHAMBER

NIGHT'S BIG HIT

Bill Lowe and Conn's Rainbow Orchestra Divide Honors With Scrap Iron Quartet.

Bill Lowe and his Junior Chamber of Commerce musicians and joke-smiths divided honor and good music last night from Station WGM. The Atlanta Constitution, in a style that is seldom equalled from any broadcasting station.

Last night the 9:30 o'clock period from Station WGM was given over to the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Bill Lowe as always on Junior Chamber nights did the honors in arrangement and direction, but last night he did a little more than usual. After the first announcement he took his stand before the microphone and went to be tried loose. He made all announcements and did them so well that he earned a job on Junior Chamber nights.

Conn's Rainbow Orchestra, the official musical organization of the Junior Chamber, was the big musical hit of last night's program. This orchestra is heard every Junior Chamber night from Station WGM and is one of the city's best musical organizations. It is composed of Ed A. Kneisel, piano; George Williams, saxophone and trombone; Newell Carter, banjo; W. F. Mauk, violin, and George Goodale, drums.

The orchestra held center stage in most of the musical numbers, but not all of them. There was the Scrap Iron quartet, a combination of outstanding business men that made one of the big hits of the evening with its antiquated songs in novelty style.

Bill Lowe and Robert Troy, secretary of the Junior Chamber, were the two main and only joke-smiths of the evening, but their jokes had no whippers on them. Everyone was as new as the rest of the program.

Jack Williams was solo saxophone solo and Ed Kneisel was solo piano solo. The number of requests to repeat his piano selections.

Altogether the program was the best the Junior Chamber of Commerce can boast, and Bill Lowe has promised to exceed even this in the next two weeks.

"A Nightly Fan."
WGM, Gentlemen: Concerts come in fine and clear, particularly enjoyed "Perfect Day" tonight. Programs are all good and enjoyed by one of the nightly fans.
C. R. RICE,
5834 S. Park Ave., Chicago.

Warner's Seven Aces and Miss Lillian McDonald Will Divide Honors on Early WGM Broadcast.

Miss Lillian McDonald, charming and gifted lyric soprano, and an exclusive WGM artist, will supplement Warner's Seven Aces, The Constitution orchestra, on the early broadcast program from this station tonight.

Miss McDonald has been heard many times from Station WGM and has endeavored herself to thousands of radio fans in America with her delightful singing of popular and late song hits. She has a beautiful lyric soprano voice and her singing will be heard to unusual advantage in her selections for tonight.

Warner's Seven Aces needs no introduction to radio fans. Under the capable leadership of Byron H. Warner, this orchestra has ascended the ladder of fame in musical circles to the topmost rung and occupies an enviable position in the hearts of music lovers. It is one of the greatest radio attractions in America.

The early broadcast offering an orchestra and a vocal star of widely recognized ability, will no doubt be of unusual interest to fans. The vocal selections will consist of a number of the popular selections and Miss McDonald's songs will include several of the widely loved semi-classical and late numbers.

EMPIRE MELODY ORCHESTRA PLAYS BY RADIO TONIGHT
The Empire State Melody orchestra will be heard between 10:30 and 11:30 o'clock tonight from station WDAI, the Atlanta and West Point Railroad company, in College Park, where the regular program for train No. 36, New York to New Orleans, and listeners throughout the United States, Canada, Cuba and Porto Rico will be given.

Members of the orchestra are: Mrs. Leslie Boswell, piano; Mrs. Blanche Albert, violin; Mrs. E. L. Brown, violin; F. G. Chappel, trombone; Chris Chorus, trumpet; Hans Mangels, banjo; and A. B. Engle, drums.

Praises WGM Artists

Radio Station WGM: I hear your concert every evening, tuning in on your early and late programs, and hearing them all very clearly. WGM comes in as strong and loud on my radio set as though it were a local station.

The late concert which featured the artists, Nora Allen, Mrs. Rose Mathews, John Hinton and Signor Voldi, measured in quality and interpretation to any program I have ever received over my radio station.

Yours truly,
H. G. SWARTLEY,
Great Neck, L. I.
(Editor's Note: Mr. Swartley recently visited his friend, C. L. Stafford, of Atlanta, and was a pleasant and interesting visitor to the studio of station WGM.)

HELTON PROGRAM AT WGM TONIGHT

Late Broadcast Tonight Will Offer a Variety of Music by Widely Known Atlanta Artists.

Tonight's 9:30 to 10:30 program has been arranged by Earl A. Helton, director of Helton Brothers orchestra, and one of the most gifted and accomplished musicians in Atlanta. The arrangement includes orchestration, violin, saxophone and piano solos and duets, and vocal solos.

Programs by Mr. Helton have been regular weekly features of WGM broadcasts for several months. Radio fans and music lovers of America have enjoyed his arrangements. He is some time and no Atlanta artist is more widely known than Mr. Helton. He is a pianist and melophone soloist of rare talent and training and his contributions to musical programs from this station are distinct and exceptional features. Mr. Helton will be heard in a number of violin solos.

Wendell J. Helton, saxophonist and cornet soloist, will also appear. He is a brother of the popular director of Helton Brothers orchestra, and is a "chick" from the same block. He is a highly trained and talented artist and will be heard with much pleasure.

And there are other popular WGM stars in the Helton program for the late program tonight. They are W. B. Griffith, banjoist, and Walter Singleton, saxophonist. The latter is new to WGM audiences.

The quality of programs sponsored by Mr. Helton are known throughout the continent. His program arrangements include the popular piano and orchestra and the latest song and instrumental selections. Tonight's offering will be no exception to the rule. Fans may expect an exceptional program and one which the most critical listeners will enjoy and appreciate.

Constitution Music-Makers Heard in Concert of Sofos, Trios and Quartets.

Specialty numbers took their place last night from station WGM. The repertoire of Warner's Seven Aces, the Atlanta Constitution orchestra, prepared for the program with view to giving several members of the Aces seldom heard in solo work.

The program was a great one, too. Warner's Seven Aces are generally heard in ensemble numbers, but when they do go in for solo work, there is no night proved this.

The opening number was the feature selection of all. It was written especially by Mr. Warner for "Shucks" Parks, a comedian and xylophone player of the Aces. In this selection Mr. Parks played a special arrangement of "St. Louis Blues" by W. F. Mauk, with a four-hammer xylophone solo, with Mr. Warner at the piano.

The next number was a violin solo, "A Kiss in the Dark" by Ralph Bennett, violinist of the Aces. Mr. Bennett is seldom heard in solos beyond parts in ensemble numbers by the orchestra. Last night's program gave him an opportunity to be heard to the best advantage, since he also played "Love Sends a Little Gift of Roses" as a violin solo.

Mr. Warner, who has talent and ability as a pianist is the subject of real comment in musical circles, had two numbers presented. "Symphonies" and "Kitten on the Keys" the latter at the request of a number of listeners. In another selection, a trio arrangement, a duet with Mr. Warner, Mr. Bennett and Mr. Parks. They played "Tomorrow" with a special xylophone part by Mr. Parks.

In the concluding selection a quartet was presented in the "St. Louis Blues." The quartet was composed of Mr. Warner, Mr. Bennett, C. J. Buckner, clarinetist, and Mr. Parks.

The Income Tax in A B C Form

CONTRIBUTIONS AND GIFTS.
By JOSEPH A. BLONDELL.
(Copyright, 1923, for The Constitution.)

Quite a number of taxpayers have unintentionally made deductions for contributions or gifts that are not allowable under the Income Tax laws, and others have not made deductions which they are properly entitled to. This article, therefore, is published in order to assist the taxpayer in knowing whether or not certain contributions or gifts are deductible.

Article 251, Regulations 62, says, "Contributions or gifts within the taxable year are deductible if made to or for the use of:"
A—The United States, the District of Columbia, or any State or Territory or political subdivision thereof of exclusive public use.
B—Any Corporation or Community Chest, Fund or Foundation, organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary or educational purposes or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, no part of the income of which inures to the benefit of any private stockholder or individual.

Article 251, Regulations 62, says, "Contributions or gifts within the taxable year are deductible if made to or for the use of:"
C—The special fund for vocational rehabilitation under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act of June 27, 1918.
Note: This limit is placed on the amount allowable as a deduction under this Section, which limit is 15% of the net taxable income. You arrive at the 15% before deducting the contributions and the personal exemption. An example of this is set forth below.

ORGANIZATIONS RECOGNIZED.
Some of the organizations recognized by the Department are: The American Red Cross, Jewish Relief, Young Men's Christian Association, Young Women's Christian Association, Associated Charities, Children's Aid Society, Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children or Animals, Disabled Veterans Society and religious, educational, scientific, literary or charitable organizations if operated for purposes mentioned in Item "B" above.

Contributions or gifts made for the construction of a church allowable as a deduction.
Pew rents are allowable deductions under the heading of contributions. Contributions or gifts given to a church, for the poor or for the purchase of coal are allowable deductions under the heading of contributions.

15 PER CENT MAXIMUM ILLUSTRATED.
The examples below are given to make clear the 15 per cent maximum allowed and other items:
Example No. 1.
Q—During year 1922 I gave $20 to the Red Cross and $50 to the American Christian Association, both recognized organizations. May I deduct this? My net income for year 1922 was $30,000. I am married, no children.
A—Yes. As 15% of $30,000 is $4,500 and your contributions are less than this amount you may claim the $70.

Example No. 2.
Q—In November, 1922, I gave my church $50 and asked my wife to give them another $50 in January, 1923, and another $50 in May, 1923. May I deduct the cash payments and also the $500 due in 1923? My net income for 1922 aggregated $50,000.
A—No. You may only deduct the $30 actually contributed in November. Promised to pay by individuals are not recognized by the Department.

Example No. 3.
Q—I am married (two children) and my net income for year 1922 aggregated $10,000. My contributions during year 1922 totaled $1,700. May I deduct the $1,700?
A—No. You may only deduct $1,500, arrived at as follows:
Q—I gave my cousin a gift of $50 to purchase some clothing. Is this allowable as a deduction?
A—No. The Department does not recognize gifts to needy relatives, nor does the Department recognize gifts to needy families.

FURTHER EXPLANATIONS.
Contributions or gifts to needy relatives (as stated in Example No. 4 above) are not allowable as a deduction. If the relative is physically unable to work and is solely dependent upon you for support then you may claim an exemption of $400 under the heading of dependents. Don't deduct the $400 under the heading of contributions.
If you gave $100 to a family in bad circumstances it is not allowable as a deduction. (Read Example No. 4 above.) If you had given this $100 to a recognized charitable organization and the organization was taking care of this family then it would have been allowable.

Gifts in the shape of money and real or personal property not taxable. Such items are exempt. This includes Christmas gifts. The income derived from such gifts is taxable.
Contributions or gifts to a social club not allowable as a deduction.
Contributions or gifts made for political campaign purposes not allowable as a deduction.
Contributions or gifts made for lobbying purposes for the promotion or defeat of legislation not allowable as a deduction.

IMPORTANT PROVISION.
If there isn't sufficient room on the return for listing the contributions, then attach to the return an itemized list and show the return opposite the heading "Contributions" the total amount and make the following notation:
"For details, see Schedule attached."

PARTNERSHIPS AND CORPORATIONS.
Partnerships are not allowed to deduct in their partnership return contributions or gifts. The partners, however, may deduct in their individual returns their proportion of such contributions or gifts made for political purposes not allowable as a deduction. The Treasury Department, however, states in Article 602 of Regulations 62 that donations made by a corporation for purposes connected with the operation of its business, when limited to contributions or gifts made for political purposes, are not deductible for the benefit of its employees or their dependents are a proper deduction. Such donations are not to be deducted under the heading "Contributions" but should be deducted under heading "Business Expenses."

Gifts or bonuses awarded employees as additional compensation for services rendered, as a reward for past endeavor or to further promote enthusiasm in the discharge of their duties allowable as a deduction. Such items should be deducted under heading Business Expenses "Salaries Paid" and not under Contributions. The individual receiving such bonus is to report it as income.

"The Meaneast Man."

(At the Forsyth.)
"The Meaneast Man in the World," this week's presentation of the Forsyth Players, has kept Atlanta theatergoers in laughter, mixed with touches of sentiment.

Dealing with the determination of Richard Clark, young attorney (John Lyle), to win material success at the sacrifice of an idealistic soul, the play has the rare elements that leaves the suggestion of a moral without offense. Added to this is the perfect delineation of characters by Belle Bennett.

"EBB TIDE."

(At the Rialto.)
For thrills, action and exceptional appeal one can safely recommend "Ebb Tide," a Paramount photoplay, which is being shown at the Rialto for the first time. It is a delightful picturization of Robert Louis Stevenson's and Lloyd Osbourne's famous story.

As an added attraction and prologue the Rialto offers Della Roberts and her Hawaiian troupe in Hawaiian dances and melodies. If you haven't seen this graceful little dancer you have missed the show of the week. This show is presented three times daily—1:15, 7:45 and 9:30 o'clock.

"Beautiful and Damned."

(At the Metropolitan.)
Mary Prevost, the former bathing beauty, plays the part of the sophisticated upper in her latest picture, "Beautiful and Damned," the Warner Brothers' production at the Metropolitan this week.

"Beautiful and Damned" is a screen adaptation of the novel by F. Scott Fitzgerald, which ran into many editions and became one of the most popular of the year. All the incidents and scenes in the book have been retained in the picture, and no expense has been spared to delineate the night life of New York's Broadway cafes and cabarets.

Loew's Vaudeville.

(At the Grand.)
The mid-week change of bill at Loew's Grand Theatre in effect today has as its top-line attraction Earl Seashole and orchestra, a quartet of southern syncopating serenaders. These musical boys introduce what they term "The Evolution of Jazz," and with harmony songs, brass and instrumental music entertain with melodies that will keep every foot in the audience tapping.

"Daughter of Luxury."

(At the Howard.)
The story of the pride of a daughter of luxury suddenly faced with the poorest poverty is the story of "A Daughter of Luxury," the attraction at the Howard theater this week. The picture has been pleasing large audiences so far this week.

GEORGIA FERTILIZER INSPECTORS TO MEET

Banquet to Be Given Agents of Agricultural Department Tonight.

Fertilizer inspectors attached to the state department of agriculture will meet in Atlanta this morning to attend a two-day conference. This is the annual meeting held by the department prior to the opening of the fertilizer inspection work for the season and is designed to thoroughly inform the inspectors on the wide responsibilities and duties of their work.

Commissioner of Agriculture J. J. Brown will speak at 10:30 a. m., and Dr. J. N. Harper, of the soil survey committee, will speak at 11:30 o'clock.

During the two days of the meeting, the inspectors will be shown actual demonstrations in fertilizer testing and conditions in the laboratory at the state capitol. They will pay a visit to the Armour fertilizer plant here and will be entertained by a banquet in the Kimball house on Thursday night.

This year, for the first time, the work of these inspectors is organized on a new system. There is 46 of them all told, and of this number 31 have been named as supervisors. The "supervisors" are to work under the direction of these six supervisors, while the supervisors themselves will be held responsible to the department at the capitol.

GRAND JURY TO ACT ON THEFT CHARGE
Summerville, Ga., January 31.—(Special.)—Erskine Gilreath, a Look-out mountain youth, given a preliminary trial here, charged with the charge of attempting to destroy the Girl Scout camp at Cloudland by carrying off the large tent, coats and other camp equipment, was bound over to the grand jury for trial at the March term of Chatham county superior court. Most of the stolen articles of clothing were recovered by Sheriff Thompson and Deputy S. W. Fawcett.

the Turks and the European powers and also between the British and French delegations, who appeared to be trending toward division in consequence of the French determination not to end the conference abruptly when there still seemed a possibility of reaching an agreement.

If the differences between the Turks and the allies are not solved by Tuesday, when Marquis Curzon will leave for the relief French plenipotentiary, it is likely that the conference will break up. The French and Italians probably will advocate a continuance of the conference.

During the session today M. Bonaparte, the French plenipotentiary, and Marquis di Gironi, Italy, earnestly counseled Marquis Curzon to grant a week's delay, requested by the French plenipotentiary, in order that the Turks of the treaty with which the Turks had been officially presented. Thereupon Curzon replied that he would postpone his departure until Sunday. He added that the British government desired him to remain until the end of the conference, and he thought by working night and day all the business before the conference could be concluded this week.

TO CALL MEETING ON BRITISH DEBT

ish ambassador, acting for his government. Members of the American commission appeared today to be divided as to the procedure to be followed in submitting the question of ratification of the agreement to congress.

Some of them, including Secretary Mellon who is chairman, and Senator Smoot, republican, Utah, and Representative Burton, republican, Ohio, were represented as urging immediate ratification of the agreement, and the commission's power so that it could complete the settlement.

Favor Congressional Action.
It was understood, however, that the president favored action by congress on a resolution by which congress could vote either to accept or reject the settlement, and the provisions of which are outside the present foreign debt funding act.

The American suggestions called for final payment of the debt of $5,000,000,000 in sixty-two years with interest rates of three per cent for the first ten years and three and one-half per cent thereafter, and an amortization rate of one-half of one per cent of the principal annually.

The law prescribes an interest rate of four and one-quarter per cent and payment in twenty-five years, and congressional action of some kind, therefore, would be necessary before the settlement could become operative.
